Cell coverage an issue along Manitoba border

People who live along the Saskatchewan-Manitoba boundary says that poor cell service along the border causes many issues, including uneven access to emergency services, and puts people's health and safety at risk.

According to one First Responder in Welwyn, coverage is so bad that calls to First Responders' cell phones often do not go through, or messages come through on the cell phones hours too late.

Some people have had trouble making 911 calls from along and near the border, as the calls are continually dropped.

SaskTel says the issue has to do with federal regulations. Because SaskTel is a provincial, not a national carrier, its signals cannot bleed across the border into Manitoba.

SaskTel says there is a fix with new technology being rolled out across the province, but it has no timeline for upgrades in border communities to fix the problem.

Patron found guilty on hate crime

Travis Patron has been found guilty of Wilful Promotion of Hatred. Patron was found guilty by a jury in Estevan Court of King's Bench

Wednesday.

Patron, from Redvers, was charged with the hate crime in February 2021. He was leader of a fringe political party at the time. The party was deregistered on March 31 of this year as it failed to maintain 250 members.

The Crown's case against

Patron was based on a video which had been posted online, entitled "Beware the Parasitic Tribe."

Highways Minister to speak at October 25 Chamber meeting

Saskatchewan Highways Minister Jeremy Cockrill will join the Moosomin Chamber of Commerce for the October meeting.

Cockrill was invited to the October meeting to address two issues, the need to recap Highway 8 between Moosomin and Rocanville, and airport funding.

"We understand that the community of Moosomin and the surrounding area have been interested in doing more work on the airport than what is possible under the annual CAP grants. Those discussions continue," Cockrill told the World-Spectator.

"I think I have an understanding, as the Minister, of the needs and pressures in that area—it's trying to find a way to work with the community and their stakeholders to address those issues."

Economic Development

Also at the October meeting, there will be a presentation on the partnership between the Community Builders Alliance, the Town of Moosomin and the RM of Moosomin, who are working together on economic development and are jointly funding a government relations strategist. Representatives of the CBA, the town of Moosomin and the RM of Moosomin will attend.

Southeast College

Also at the October meeting, Renata Gaca-Proszak of Southeast College will speak about courses available through the College.

The October 25 meeting will be at 11:45 am at the Canal Hotel meeting room. Lunch will be served.

Conexus donates $20,000 to Rocanville pool upgrade

Patron found guilty of willful promotion of hatred

Crown Prosecutor Ryan Snyder said that in the video, Patron had repeated "pretty much every antisemitic trope in the history of antisemitic tropes."

During his closing argument Monday, Snyder read from a transcript of one of Patron's statements:

"What we need to do, perhaps more than anything, is remove these people, once and for all, from our country," the transcript read.

The Crown alleged that Patron had publicly, and outside of private conversation, willfully promoted hatred against an identifiable group, that group being Jews.

Patron had argued that there had been no evidence to prove that the comments in the video had been directed at Jewish people.

The judge informed the jury that promotion of hatred is a high bar.

"Hatred is more than simple dislike. It is an extreme emotion, associated with the vilification or detestation of a group," the judge said.

The jury took less than an hour to find that Patron was guilty after they began their deliberations on Wednesday.

When the verdict was delivered in the courtroom, Patron, who had said in his closing argument that his freedom of speech had been limited by the state, sat silently.

Judge Robertson will hear sentencing submissions in Estevan Court of King's Bench on October 20.

The Crown will be suggesting a sentence of a year in prison, which would mean about six further months in prison for Patron, after he receives credit for time served waiting for the trial.

Depending on how the judge rules, it's possible Patron could be released without further incarceration, as a result of the credit.

Patron has served sentences for other recent convictions, including one for mischief and breach of undertaking in December 2021 and for two counts of assault causing bodily harm in June.

In that case, he was found guilty of assaulting two women after he'd shared an evening out with them in downtown Regina.

One of those women broke her wrist, apparently trying to break her fall after Patron struck her in the face. The other suffered a concussion from the incident.

Long list of charges

Patron has had a long string of run-ins with the law, from assault charges in eastern Canada to the assault charges from the 2019 incident in Regina, in which the two women were assaulted, to incidents in which Patron was charged for entering the Redvers Legion Hall, to an incident at the CBC building in Regina, in which police were called to remove him from the property, to an incident on February 22 of last year at the Saskatchewan Legislature, in which Patron was charged with four offences after he was detained by security at the legislature and Regina City Police had to be called to remove him from the building.

Concerns about SaskTel service issues along provincial border

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

People who live along the Saskatchewan, Manitoba border say they face daily issues with cellphone reception and internet connection.

Barb Cuthill of Welwyn expressed her concerns about the poor cell reception she has from her home.

"We cannot be the only community because Fleming, Maryfield and Spy Hill, all those people in that area must be going crazy," said Cuthill.

"The first responders in town can't even get calls. The people in Toronto had a meltdown when the Rogers service went down, we live like that every day."

A first responder from the Welwyn area said often, she is unable to receive emergency calls because the network connection is so bad.

"There's spots where you hit dead zones around here in Welwyn. It's really ridiculous," said Amber Hamilton, a first responder from Welwyn.

"We have a good first responder team here, I'm a first responder too, but I don't receive a lot of the calls. That's the problem, you don't get a lot of the calls, or if you do get them, they're 12 hours late.

"I work in the village of Welwyn, I'm the village supervisor. When I complained to SaskTel about it they told me to get a booster because I'm constantly roaming around the village. What am I supposed to do? Have a booster on my head or attach it to my body? There's no reason for it."

The ongoing problem of poor network connections has an impact to the safety for the community of Welwyn, Hamilton said.

"There's times where people just don't get the calls. In the first responders instances, you have people who don't have landlines anymore and can't call out because they only have cellphones.

"There was one call about a year and half ago, the man was trying to call 911, but he kept being disconnected. Then he finally phoned me and said I'm trying to phone 911, but it keeps disconnecting. I ran over there and checked it out, then came home and called 911 myself (through my landline). It's just horrible."

Hamilton said majority of the people in her community heavily rely using their landlines as their main source of communication.

"The problem I have with it is we have to pay the same price as everyone else for our cellphones, but we have to keep landlines because our cellphones don't work enough to communicate," she said.

"We're customers, we're paying more than the average person because we're paying for cell service, which can't be used most of the time. A lot of us still have to keep our landlines.

"When my kids started home schooling I had to get RF-NOW, which is a fabulous service, but that's another $150 a month to get internet. I have a household of five, $150 a month, plus five people with cellphones, plus a landline, we're paying a lot to communicate."

Hamilton said she has been a first responder for eight years.

"We have a great group of first responders here that aren't always getting the calls," she said.

"It shouldn't be this bad, all they need to do is put up a booster or something, but they really don't care.

"It seems there is not enough people, I guess, in their eyes. It just doesn't seem fair that everyone has to get double billed or tripled billed."

SaskTel says they are looking into the matter

SaskTel stated that they have been made aware of the service connection issues along the Saskatchewan Manitoba border.

"Although our wireless network reaches over 99 per cent of the population of the province, we are aware that accessing a wireless signal can be a challenge in some areas, especially for those who live and work very near to our provincial borders," said Greg Jacobs External Communications Manager for SaskTel.

Jacobs explained what the primary reason is for the common network issues.

"As a regional wireless service provider, the wireless license we have been issued by Innovation, Science, and Economic Development Canada (ISED) prohibits us from emitting a wireless signal in any province outside of Saskatchewan and as such, we must do everything possible to ensure our wireless signals do not leak across any of our provincial borders.

"This, unfortunately, means that SaskTel is unable to provide comprehensive wireless coverage to all areas along our border with Manitoba and results in some of these areas having less than ideal wireless coverage.

"While we are limited by our wireless license, it is worth noting that we are planning to upgrade our entire wireless network to 5G over the next few years, including the towers that serve customers near our provincial borders."

In 2022-2023, SaskTel will be investing $110.6 million into wireless network enhancements, including $103.6 million for expanding 5G coverage. By the end of 2022, 5G will cover approximately 50 per cent of Saskatchewan's population, according to SaskTel.

Moosomin RCMP Report

BY CST. ISABELLA POMEROY

Pomeroy's rant

There have been many complaints this week regarding vehicles speeding through town. Members follow up with every complaint we receive and make patrols in an attempt to locate the vehicle reported.

If you see a traffic infraction that you wish to report, it is helpful to members if you are able to get a license plate of the vehicle, see who is driving, or even a description of the vehicle/driver. A ticket can be laid but the person reporting the incident MUST provide a statement and be willing to testify in court if it goes to trial.

Members can't be everywhere all the time, we need the public's help to keep the streets safe. It can be as simple as following the road rules yourself, teaching your kids about traffic safety, or taking a driving course if you don't feel confident on the road. There are many things the public is able to do to help, and everything you do is very much appreciated!

Several traffic tickets in the Moosomin area

This week in traffic action there were several citations written in the Moosomin detachment area.

The highest ticket this week went to a person travelling 145 km/h in the 80 km/h zone at Moosomin on Highway 1. This person received a whopping $966 ticket, a vehicle impoundment and points off their license. Like I say every week, there is absolutely no excuse driving that fast. Speed kills, it's that simple. Anything can cause a collision when you are speeding—lack of experience, an animal crossing the road, children distracting you, anything. Officers show no mercy when they catch someone driving dangerously fast. What you think will only be a speeding ticket can turn into a criminal charge very quickly.

Dangerous Operation of a Motor Vehicle- Sec.320.13(1) of the Criminal Code: Everyone who commits an offence under Sec.320.13(1) is liable of a fine no more than $5,000 and a term of imprisonment of 10 years.

Mental Health Calls

Moosomin RCMP responded to several mental health calls this week. We want encourage everyone to reach out for help and talk to someone if they can. It's okay not to be okay. Please reach out and check in with friends, co-workers, and family see how they are doing. It's a perfectly normal question to ask people how they are doing.

Don't let people suffer in silence. If you see someone that you believe needs some help but won't accept help from you, please let the police or their family know. Help is also available 24 hours a day at Canada's Suicide Prevention Service at 1-833-456-4566

Vehicle rollover

On October 1, members responded to a single vehicle rollover on Highway 8 just north of Moosomin. Moosomin Fire Department and Moosomin EMS also attended the scene. The single occupant of the vehicle walked away with no injuries but his vehicle was not as lucky.

Theft from a vehicle

On October 1, members received a complaint of a theft from a vehicle that occurred in Moosomin. The suspect(s) had taken off with a truck hitch and attempted to steal a propane tank as well. The matter is still under investigation.

Suspicious vehicle

On October 1, members received a complaint of a suspicious vehicle in Moosomin. The vehicle was revving its engine for long periods of time, then was parked in a driveway where the male subject left and returned multiple times. The caller believed the person to be impaired. Members made patrols but were unable to locate the vehicle.

Alarm at business

On October 1, members received a complaint of an alarm at a business in Moosomin. Members attended and made sure the building was secure.

Injured moose

On October 2, members received a complaint of an injured moose in the RM of Martin. Members advised the Saskatchewan Department of Environment and Resource Management (SERM) of the moose and they were attending.

Deer collision on Highway 1

On October 2, members responded to a deer collision on Highway 1. Members determined the deer to be deceased upon arrival but the driver of the vehicle was A-Okay. The vehicle involved wasn't as lucky but will hopefully make a full recovery.

Stolen vehicle not really stolen

On October 3, members received a complaint of a stolen vehicle from a business in Moosomin. Members attended but the owner realized he was driving a different vehicle that day and had forgotten.

I don't know about anyone else but this happens to me all the time, I either forget where I park or thought I drove the other vehicle. It happens. The best way to remember where you park is taking a picture, honestly. In bigger centres I have taken a picture of my vehicle near whichever sign I park by or if there is a significant landmark. It will also work if your vehicle does get stolen, you have a picture of it from that day with the license plate so police will have a good idea of what they're looking for.

Impaired driver

On October 3, members responded to a report of an impaired driver. Members made extensive patrols but were unable to locate the vehicle.

Firearm located in vehicle

On October 3, members were investigating a separate matter when they located a firearm inside a vehicle that was not secured and the keys were left in the unlocked vehicle. Members seized the firearm and the matter is still under investigation.

The punishment for unsafe storage of a firearm is a firearm prohibition and:

- First offence: imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years
- Second and subsequent offence: imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years

Possible impaired driver

On October 4, members received a complaint of a possible impaired driver on Highway 1. Members made patrols but the vehicle was already well into Manitoba by then. Members advised Virten RCMP of the vehicle.

Deer collision damages vehicle

On October 5, members received a complaint of a deer collision on Highway 8. The driver was not injured but the vehicle was not driveable.

911 hang up

On October 6, members responded to a hotel in Moosomin for a 911 hang up. Members determined there was no emergency and it was a misdial.

Deer collision on Highway 8

On October 7, members responded to a deer collision on Highway 8. The driver of the vehicle was not injured, the vehicle and the deer were not as lucky.

As always, your friendly neighborhood RCMP. Have a great week!

Upcoming Halloween cabaret in Moosomin: Witching Hour on Wright Road

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

On Saturday, October 29, Moosomin Senior Rangers Alumni Committee and Moosomin Minor Hockey Association will be hosting a Halloween masquerade cabaret event—Witching Hour on Wright Road—at the Moosomin Conexus Convention (MCC) Centre.

Doors will open at 7 p.m. The cabaret will feature Elite DJ's from Saskatoon, a photo booth, games and prizes to be won for the night.

"We'll be having a Halloween dress-up cabaret for adults," said Moosomin Rec Director Mike Schwean.

"It's a joint project between the senior ranger alumni and minor hockey. We've never done anything together, but have always wanted to try do something like this.

"We hired Elite DJ's from Saskatoon. She has different things planned, there's going to be a photo booth with different backgrounds, people can get dressed up and have their picture taken. That's free of charge."

Tickets are being sold at $160 for a table of eight or $20 per person.

People can call (306) 435-3622 or email: msmn.rec.brd@sasktel.net to buy their tickets.

There will also be a 'Name the Tune' game, where people can guess the name of the song playing.

"We'll be doing prizes, we're not sure exactly what yet, but that will go with the Name the Tune game. I'm sure we'll do some merchandise prizes, but there will also be some package prizes for Ranger games," Schwean said.

"There will be a dance as well, the DJ will play until 2 a.m., it will be fun. I like Halloween, I always have. I like seeing the costumes, I imagine after Covid there will be some cool costumes.

"It will be cool to see if tables come dressed up as one theme, but they obviously don't have to."

Aside from Witching Hour being a fun night of activities in celebration of Halloween, Schwean said half of the proceeds from the cabaret will go towards supporting Moosomin Minor Hockey.

"The Moosomin Senior Rangers Alumni Committee helped set up the event, they will be bartending too, and volunteers from minor hockey," he said.

"We hope to sell at least 40 tables of eight. I think people will be happy to get out again, it's been a while.

"It's always fun, when we've done these events in the past where there's been some wicked costumes."

Schwean said he is looking forward to the Halloween event.

"We appreciate the support, of course half of the proceeds go towards minor hockey. We're hoping a lot of minor hockey parents buy tickets and enjoy the night," he said.

Schwean said people are encouraged to buy their tickets as soon as possible, as there are already 26 tables booked.

2022 Mike Schwean Arena Wall of Fame Inductees Casey McCormac

Casey McCormac began figure skating at the age of four in the fall of 2004 with the Moosomin Skating Club.

Casey's first skating coach was Tamela Olafson. Casey and Tamela attended many competitions in both Manitoba and Saskatchewan along with many other skaters.

In 2008, Casey attended Patricia Hole's Cutting Edge Skating School in Whitewood with Tamela.

There she received lessons from Olympic pairs skater, Rudy Swiegers, as well as his partner, Paige Lawrence.

Casey continued skating in Moosomin during the fall and winter seasons and skated in the summer at Patty's schools in both Melville and Virden.

Patty started coaching Casey with Tamela in 2009—with Patty coaching in Virden and Tamela coaching in Moosomin.

She skated at a pre-juvenile level.

Casey was chosen for Skate Canada Saskatchewan's Sask First Team in 2010.

At Sectionals (a provincial championship) she was Saskatchewan's Juvenile Champion.

Casey was chosen to represent Saskatchewan at a competition in Paris, Ontario, with a High Performance Team in the fall of 2011.

Casey skated as a member of both the Moosomin Skating Club and Skate

Virden for a few years.

In addition to Patty, Casey also received coaching from Tyler Bidnyk and Tammy McKay.

Patty provided many opportunities for her skaters to have the expertise of many different coaches and choreographers from across Canada.

Casey had the opportunity to work with Patrick Chan's former coach, Kristy Krall, as well as, Katelyn Osmond and Keegan Messing's choreographer, Lance Vipond.

Lance choreographed two of Casey's programs, one at the Novice level and one at the Junior level.

Casey represented the Moosomin Skating Club at the Saskatchewan Winter Games and came home with a bronze medal in 2014.

Also that year, Casey placed fourth at Sectionals and represented Saskatchewan at Skate Canada Challenge in Pierrefonds, Quebec.

As a member of Skate

Canada Saskatchewan's High Performance Team, Casey toured the province doing four performances on the Skate Canada Saskatchewan Road Show in 2015 and 2016.

Casey finished third in the province at Sectionals in her last year of skating at the Junior level in 2017.

During her skating career, Casey passed all in all four disciplines and became a quad gold skater.

The four disciplines are freeskate, dance, skills and interpretive (artistic).

Casey ended her competitive skating career in 2017 but continues to skate for pleasure and is still a member of the Moosomin Skating Club.

She would not have been successful without the support of her skating coaches, family and fellow skaters.

Skating provided Casey with many experiences, opportunities and life lessons, as well as lifelong friendships.

Semi hijacked, driver pulls air brake before being thrown out of cab, semi erupts into flames before hitting spike belt
 Firefighters dousing down a semi that was stolen and then started on fire while the drivers ran from police in the early morning hours on Sept. 29. Two suspects were taken into custody and charged with a long list of charges, including robbery, kidnapping, assault, and flight from police. The semi was carrying newspaper.

Multiple charges after semi hijacked, driver ejected

Around 1 am on Thursday, September 29, Moosomin RCMP received a report from Manitoba RCMP that a pick-up truck towing a trailer—both of which were reported stolen in Ontario—was travelling westbound on Highway 1.

Officers from both Manitoba RCMP and Moosomin, Broadview and Indian Head RCMP responded as the vehicle travelled west.

The truck pulled into the weigh scale on the Trans-Canada Highway east of Moosomin, almost hitting an RCMP vehicle.

Two individuals then exited the truck, approached a semi which had been parked at the weigh scale, threatened the adult male semi driver and got inside, driving the semi onto Highway 1.

The adult male semi driver was then thrown from the semi, which continued driving on Highway 1. The driver was taken to hospital with injuries described as non-life-threatening in nature.

The owner of the semi managed to pull the air brakes before he was pushed out of the vehicle which caused the back tires to lock up and eventually start on fire.

Officers set up a spike belt to disable the semi. As it approached the spike belt, the trailer caught fire. The semi then swerved to avoid the spike belt and came to a stop in the centre median.

The two individuals inside were then arrested without incident.

Kyle Duck, 31, of Dundalk, Ontario is charged with:

- one count, robbery, Section 344(1)(b), Criminal Code

- two counts, robbery, Section 334, Criminal Code

- one count, kidnapping without firearm, Section 279(1.1)(b), Criminal Code

In our opinion:

Indigenous peoples can choose development and prosperity

Indigenous ownership in projects is a win-win for industry and Indigenous communities

If First Nations are to have a chance at seeing real self-determination, equity deals in natural resource development must be part of the conversation. Having ownership of the projects taking place on our land not only gives us own-source revenue but also gives us the ability to have a seat at the table and be part of the conversation with industry.

On September 22, Hydro One announced a new equity partnership with First Nation leaders across Ontario. This announcement offers our people in Ontario a 50 per cent equity stake in all future large-scale capital transmission line projects exceeding $100 million in value.

This agreement, signed with eight First Nations represented by the Gwayakochigewin Limited Partnership (GLP) for the Waasigan Transmission Line project, shows that the appetite for industry to work with First Nations is there. In total, nine First Nations will have the opportunity to invest in a 50 per cent stake in the Waasigan Transmission Line project, putting those Nations that invest in a financially independent position.

This partnership is a step in the right direction. As Indigenous people, we sometimes see development and projects take place without receiving any benefits. Industry working with First Nations is a step forward in reconciliation.

This is not the first time an equity agreement has happened between industry and First Nations. In March this year, Coastal Gaslink signed a 10 per cent equity option with First Nations along the pipeline corridor.

Chief Justin Napoleon of Saulteau First Nations said of that agreement: "We want to be partners; we want to be involved in the lifecycle of the project from ground-breaking to reclamation. Having the option to get involved in equity opens up the opportunity to have long-term economic benefit from a project that will be there for years."

Having this long-term economic benefit provides opportunities for our First Nations that we could not have considered 10 years ago.

Our communities can no longer rely on the federal government to provide Indigenous with quality and culturally-centred education and health care services. Often at times, federal funding agreements come with strings attached, forcing First Nations to spend more on administration and professional services. Generating our own revenue with ownership in projects gives us control and allows us to spend our revenue how we see fit. That is what real self-determination looks like.

Additionally, equity ownership in projects allows us to have control of the projects on our land, allowing our people to determine the trajectory of a project by giving us a seat at the table with industry. Not only will First Nations be partners in the project we will also be environmental regulators.

Our people know best when it comes to taking care of the land. What the Creator has provided us is sacred to our people and our culture. It is essential for our people that when we develop our natural resources, we do so responsibly and ensure the project meets our high environmental standards. We are keepers of the land, and we have a responsibility to ensure that the projects we engage in are reliable and sustainable.

This equity deal with Hydro One is just the beginning for our First Nations in Ontario. There will be more opportunities like this as long as the government gets out of the way and lets First Nations and industry work together.

However, some Nations have a hard time raising the capital to invest in projects. Having a National Indigenous Guaranteed Loan Program will help Nations raise the capital necessary to invest in projects taking place on their land.

If we want to see First Nations truly thrive and experience genuine self-determination, we must allow for equity agreements to happen and invest in tools that facilitate growth and access to capital. Early last year, the Indigenous Resource Network announced its 'ownership changes everything' campaign. This campaign advocated for a National Indigenous Guaranteed Loan Program, a tool the government can implement right now to offer more Nations access to capital to invest in resource development. A guaranteed loan program can be a very helpful tool for Nations as they raise the capital necessary to invest in projects.

Our people are faced with a choice between development and poverty. We are looking for solutions for our people, and this one is staring us in the face. We hope other Canadians and Indigenous can come together to support Indigenous ownership in these projects. We believe it is a real win-win for industry and our Indigenous communities.

This editorial was written by Bob Merasty, the Executive Director of the Indigenous Resource Network.

$58 million and counting for the useless ArriveCan App

The federal government paid $58 million for absolutely nothing with the ArriveCan App. The Globe and Mail tallied up the cost of the ArriveCan App after the government released misleading and incomplete numbers previously for the cost of developing and maintaining the app.

The useless mobile app has gone from mandatory to optional, which means no one will likely ever, ever, ever use it again.

I never thought the app was the evil invasion of privacy some people painted it as, I just thought it was useless.

Twice, Kara and I filled out the information in the app as we arrived back in Canada from out of the country, coming back from Mexico in March and from London in June.

In both cases, we filled out the basic arrival information that we used to fill out on arrival cards when flying back to Canada, along with proof of vaccination.

The app then produces a QR code you supposedly needed to enter the country.

In both cases we filled out the information, and in both cases absolutely no one looked at the app, scanned the QR code, or even asked if we had filled it out. No one asked as we showed up for flights back to the country, no one asked as we arrived in the country.

If you have ever flown into Toronto, you know Customs now consists of answering a few questions on a computer terminal, which then prints out a receipt including your photo.

When we arrived back in Canada in June, we answered the questions on the terminal, some of which were the same already answered on ArriveCan, then along with everyone else waited for an hour for a border agent to glance at the print-out, confirm that it was us in the photos (who else would it be, it was taken by a computer terminal 20 feet away) and wave us through, and again, just to reiterate, absolutely no one asked anything about ArriveCan.

I spoke to one person at the Toronto airport who had come back to Canada 10 times since ArriveCan had been made mandatory and was only asked to show his QR code it generated once.

So while some painted it as a massive invasion of privacy, it was really just a massive waste of time, collecting the same information that you would traditionally have filled out on an arrival card, super secret information like the flight number you were arriving on, which is of course of absolutely no use to anyone.

The frustrating thing about ArriveCan is that the government spent millions on it for absolutely nothing.

The biggest chunk of spending on ArriveCan went to a company called GCStrategies, whose other greatest hit was the CovidAlert App. If you look through GCStrategies list of clients, there is really only one: The clients are Environment and Climate Change Canada, Treasury Board of Canada, Transport Canada, Economic Development Canada, Invest Canada, Canada Border Services Agency, Government of Canada . . . okay, so really just the Government of Canada.

I am suspicious of a company whose stellar reputation mostly just gets it government contracts, just as I am suspicious of a company that has a bunch of anonymous testimonials on its site attributed to people like "VP, Cloud Services, Major Crown Corporation." What kind of Crown Corporation president is willing to provide a testimonial but ask that his name not be shared.

I am also suspicious when these senior officials all have one thing in common—basic spelling and grammar is beyond every one of them. I wonder how they got where they are when they can't write a sentence that make sense.

"Their strategic thinking and the ability to connect the dots in very complex projects and government environment." That is supposedly a complete sentence by "Assistant Deputy Minister (Government of Canada)" who doesn't know that the sentence is both nonsensical and incomplete.

"I think they are first and foremost are a taxpayer," says "Chief Data Officer, Public Service."

"GCStrategies have a unique ability to complement our global teams with industry leading independent talent" says "VP of Client Services, Global Software Solutions Provider." Okay, I can forgive this individual for not knowing the difference between the words complement and compliment, but they are seriously saying that there is something "unique" about providing consulting services to companies, which tens of thousands of companies do.

And what does GC Strategies actually do for millions in federal contracts? GCStrategies is based in Ottawa and has "between one and four" employees, so it gets the contracts from the government and then contracts other companies to do the work.

But not all of it, as Canada Border Services Agency (CBSA) submitted documents in Parliament that list 27 contracts involving 23 different companies to work on ArriveCan, one of which is GCStrategies.

You can come to your own conclusion on whether the federal government got $58 million in value from ArriveCan. My personal opinion is the app was dead on arrival.

NHL stars: 'M' stands for marvellous

October might just be the busiest time on the year's sports calendar, with the National Hockey League opening up, baseball playoffs starting, the CFL and NFL in full swing, junior hockey nicely under way, school and university sports going full steam and the world's best soccer teams gearing up for the quadrennial World Cup. But this is Canada, and it's hockey season, so here are 14 questions and/or observations about the NHL on the eve of its 106th season:

— There are 26 letters in the alphabet, but how coincidental is it that the names of the best four players in the NHL begin with the letter M? (Alphabetically: MacKinnon, Makar, Matthews and McDavid.)

— Have injuries and age finally caught up with Hall of Fame-bound Carey Price?

— Breakout star of 2022-23? Jack Hughes of New Jersey Devils.

— If last year's playoffs are used as a measuring stick, Jake Oettinger of the Dallas Stars is the best goaltender in the league.

— Is Jordan Kyrou really the fastest skater in the league, based on last year's Skills' Competition? Maybe, but the fastest and dangliest with the puck is still Connor McDavid.

— Do fired coaches just fall off the face of the earth? Hey, Dave Tippett, where did you go?

— To heck with Mom's orders: It's only fitting that brothers Matthew and Brady Tkachuk drop the gloves and go at it this year.

— Is it logical to assume the NHL's trophy engraver can put Makar's name on the James Norris trophy for oh, the next 10 years or so?

— Will fans of the Arizona Coyotes feel cheated about having to watch their team play home games in a 5,000-seat arena on the Arizona State University campus for at least the next three seasons, or will they care?

— Putting an optimistic spin on it, NHL commissioner Gary Bettman says, "Think about the 5,000 people, the type of intimate experience they are going to have."

— In the category of best player few people know, we present Moritz Seider, the Red Wing defenceman who was chosen unanimously as rookie of the year last season.

— Speaking of rookies, Cole Caufield's stat line from last year was amazing: Under coach Dominique Ducharme, Caufield had one goal and eight points in 30 games; under replacement coach Marty St. Louis, he exploded for 22 goals and 13 assists in 37 games.

— Will Johnny Gaudreau of Columbus outscore Jonathan Huberdeau of the Flames this season? You better believe Flames' fans will be taking note.

— Cue the countdown: Alex Ovechkin needs only 22 goals to surpass No. 2 Gordie Howe on the all-time NHL goal-scoring list. He's currently 114 behind No. 1 Wayne Gretzky. The only thing that might stop him from beating Howe is conscription.

• Club Pro Guy, on Twitter: "The guy I hired to play the bagpipes at our member/guest back in June has passed away. Feels good to get that invoice off my desk."

• Bob Molinaro of pilotonline.com (Hampton, Va.): "LeBron James headlines a new ownership group that is buying an expansion franchise in Major League Pickleball. Is this LeBron's idea of a dill-icious opportunity?"

• Jack Finarelli of sportscurmudgeon.com: "Doug Pederson has won as many games as the Jags head coach as Urban Meyer did last year, and it only took him until the last week of September to do it. Would I be wrong to think that the Jags are undergoing 'Urban Renewal' this season?"

• Headline at the onion.com: "Brett Favre defends use of state welfare money to build shelter for homeless volleyballers."

• RJ Currie of sportsdeke.com: "Cincinnati QB Joe Burrow, when asked about wearing the white Bengals uniform, said he didn't really care: 'I'll play in trash bags.' This prompted Ottawa Redblacks fans to say 'Why didn't we think of that?'"

• Another one from Currie: "Saskatchewan backup quarterback Jake Dolegala was arrested and charged with DUI for operating a vehicle while legally intoxicated. Another Rider drive this season that ended badly."

Dwight Perry of the Seattle Times: "Floyd Mayweather made a reported $20 million for stopping Mikuru Asakura at the end of the second round in an exhibition fight in Japan. Good pay if you can get it: That pencils out to $200 million an hour."

• Mavericks fan Kirk Henderson, via Twitter, translating after the Lakers' oft-injured Anthony Davis said he'll play with a chip on his shoulder this season: "Report: Anthony Davis to miss 4-6 weeks with chip on shoulder."

• Geoff O'Neil, via Twitter, what a difference 21 years makes: "There were 5,273 Blockbuster video locations in operation the last time the Mariners made the playoffs."

• Eagles centre Jason Kelce, via Twitter, on the NFL's Pro Bowl skills contests: "Please tell me there's a hot dog eating competition for OL/DL!"

• Mike Bianchi of the Orlando Sentinel, on Florida's three once-downtrodden teams—the Jaguars, Bucs and Dolphins—all leading their divisions: "Traditional NFL highbrows are now feeling like how movie snobs would feel if Larry, Moe and Curly won the Academy Award for 'The Three Stooges Meet Hercules'."

October oil and gas rights public offering generates $5.4 million

Saskatchewan's public offering of Crown petroleum and natural gas rights held on Tuesday, October 4, 2022, raised $5,426,564.36 for the province, which more than doubled the October 2021 offering. This brings the current total for the 2022-23 fiscal year to $34,188,370.54 in revenue for the province.

The single exploration license and 72 of the 78 parcels posted received acceptable bids. The Estevan area saw the most interest, bringing in $4,346,574.09 for 49 leases totaling 4,125.495 hectares.

The highest bonus bid received in this offering is $608,172.96 for a 161.287 hectare lease south of Oxbow, which was awarded to Adonai Resources II Corporation. A parcel north of Lampman received highest dollar per hectare bid of $6,433.42 per hectare with Scout Energy Ltd. bidding $419,414.00 for the 65.193 hectare lease. The single exploration license received a bonus bid of $352,333.55 for a 4,345.505 hectare block of land west of Kindersley. The successful bidder was Millenium Land (333) Ltd.

The October sale is the fourth of six oil and gas public offerings scheduled for this fiscal year. The next sale will be held on December 6, 2022, and will feature 133 leases covering 18,541 hectares and three exploration licenses covering 5,349 hectares.

SaskEnergy helps community groups through Share the Warmth grant program

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER

Registered non-profit organizations can apply for SaskEnergy's Share the Warmth grant program to help with their own community group initiatives.

The program offers cash grants of up to $1,000 for grassroots community initiatives that provide food, clothing, and shelter support to families, children, seniors, homeless persons, and others who may need a hand.

"The purpose of the program is to support non-profit organizations who provide services to those in need," said Allix Schweitzer, Supervisor of Community Engagement of SaskEnergy.

"Our focus on SaskEnergy's Share the Warmth program is just in time for the heating season. It's a good natural fit, it has been in our organization for a long time to focus on helping with warm clothing, shelter, and food.

"We all know that in Saskatchewan it gets pretty cold here during the winter. The program is a focused effort to help non-profit organizations who focus on those types of projects for people in need, to be able to do that."

This year, the program will provide $1,000 grants to as many as 40 non-profit organizations across the province. In order to apply for the grant, community groups and organizations must be registered as a non-profit.

Applications for this year's Share the Warmth program are being accepted now. The deadline for groups to apply is October 31.

Grant recipients are required to implement their projects between November 2022 and March 2023.

"The Share the Warmth grant program, I think, will help these communities and organizations, and the people of Saskatchewan prepare for winter, that's the main focus of the program," said Schweitzer.

"There's 40 of the $1,000 grants available. The idea is that these organizations use those funds to leverage stuff they might not be able to do otherwise, and work together with other partners to maybe even create larger programs,

One creative project from SaskEnergy's Share the Warmth program, the non-profit community organization Angels 4 Warmth of Regina, knitted warm articles of clothing that were left in the park in Regina, for anyone in need to take and use.

to help as many people as possible.

"Some of the types of projects we've seen in the past are groups who are able to purchase warm clothing, boots, or winter coats for kids. We've also seen projects of clothing exchanges for children where you can bring something in and able to take something out to make sure your children are dressed appropriately for winter."

The program is dedicated to support organizations who look to help families for the upcoming Christmas season.

"There's also community cooking programs, breakfast programs, holiday hamper programs," Schweitzer said.

"We've definitely seen some applications for organizations who are putting together a holiday hamper to ensure that a nice, warm, awesome Christmas meal is available for people who may not have that opportunity.

"We're accepting applications right now. We're excited to be able to do this program again. I think it honestly helps people prepare for winter. Personally, I've volunteered in some of these projects throughout the province and it's a really good, warm feeling being able to help people with these necessities.

"Our focus is to be able to help people, in all places, but especially people in Saskatchewan during winter."

Schweitzer said the program also expanded to include projects that help people who are coping with mental health challenges.

"We expanded the program, last year, to also include mental health initiatives," she said.

"With Covid being brought to the forefront over the last few years, we thought expanding it to mental health initiatives would be a nice thing as well.

"This is an important program for SaskEnergy because we see ourselves as a community-minded organization. We have customers throughout all of Saskatchewan, we provide natural gas service to most of the province and we're just so proud of this program..

"The fact that it helps ensure the people in Saskatchewan who might need a little extra help to prepare for the winter season.

"We know first hand that we have people all over the province to make sure the heat is on, and that we're prepared. This is just another way our investment in the community help the less fortunate."

Organizations can apply directly through SaskEnergy's website.

Issues with cell service along border

Jacobs was asked if communities in rural southeast Saskatchewan, specifically those who are in immediate need of stronger service connections, will be able to be top of the list for upgrading its service towers.

"Given the intricate planning and complex work needed to upgrade the more than 1,000 towers we have across the province, I do not have an exact timeframe as to when the towers serving Maryfield and Welwyn will be upgraded," he said.

"That said, once we do upgrade these towers to 5G, our customers in these areas will be able to enjoy increased data speeds and better overall reliability of their wireless service."

Many face cell issues

Kendra Lawrence, CAO of the RM of Moosomin, said residents have complained to her about poor cell reception.

"Cell reception is very poor all along our Saskatchewan-Manitoba boundary," Lawrence said.

"I live in Fleming myself and our cell service is extremely poor. On a clear day we can see the Moosomin tower, but we can't pick it up. I have a long-distance package on our phone because most of the time we pick up the Manitoba tower.

"We get dropped calls, you're in dead areas along the provincial border. The RM of Moosomin equipment is equipped with CB radios because we can't guarantee the cell service along the border. That way we can confirm our guys have communication at all times."

Lawrence said she personally addressed the issue with SaskTel this past year.

"From my own personal experience, it's just coming on a year ago where I lost my son in an accident just directly south of Fleming," she said.

"I have expressed the concerns to SaskTel myself. They had indicated there was a tower to be placed in Fleming. We thought it would be going into place this year, but with their plan for 5G upgrade, that has now been pushed back and could be two to three years in the future, before we see it placed in Fleming."

Lawrence said she believes SaskTel should move up the 5G installations in border communities, where it can make a real difference.

"When we are seeing these dead zones that are causing issues for the safety and lives of people, they need to move those projects to the top of the list."

"Even some sort of compensation on our cellphone bills, for the fact that we have such poor reception or poor connectivity. That part, it's frustrating because we pay the same price for the service, and we're not getting the service."

Lawrence has contacted SaskTel to address the issue herself.

"I have followed up with them numerous times in regards to the complaints from Welwyn about the service," she said.

"Now I'm trying to work with the mayor of Fleming as well in regards to where the tower was at.

"Recently I phoned SaskTel to see where (installing the new tower in Fleming) was at because we had been told it was supposed to be coming this year. Now I have been told over the phone that it can be up to three years, now that they are installing 5G.

"There are some areas that don't have reception at all. I understand that those could be the problem areas that if you have none at all, then the focus would be to those areas versus where we have some service, it's just poor."

She said people on the Manitoba side have also complained about their services being interrupted by cell reception from the Saskatchewan side.

"I don't want to say that we are more important than someone else who doesn't have service, because everyone should be able to have this," said Lawrence.

"I just hope there could be some communication between the provinces. That if SaskTel is unable to provide that output of reception themselves, that they could speak with the Manitoba counterparts that we could tap into their towers without long distance charges or any extra data charges that would give us the service up until they (SaskTel) could upgrade theirs.

"There seems to be that 'argument' between the two provinces. They probably have to turn our reception down so it doesn't affect Manitoba, and Manitoba had probably turned down their services so it doesn't affect Saskatchewan. Yet, those of us who are right along the border are fighting between the two.

"People in Manitoba complain they pick up Saskatchewan signals all the time."

Fleming mayor Trent Green, said there have been at least 20 people in the community who have spoken out about connection issues.

"We still have a landline just for the fact that we don't have cell service," said Green.

He said it is important that when emergency responders are out in the field, that they have service.

"It's a safety concern. We're far enough away from Moosomin that to wait for an ambulance is an issue, yet alone the time it takes to get somewhere to make a call, to even call the ambulance. Safety is our biggest concern."

Residents who have complained about service issues to the town council have been asked to submit their complaints to SaskTel directly.

"We directed people to SaskTel because we figured if you can get 20 to 50 people complaining versus one letter from one municipality, I think would have more impact," Green said.

"Ten years ago it was fairly common for connection to be spotty, but it's 2022. Everyone has a cellphone, for what you pay for you should have service."

Green reception is along the entire border.

"I run a crew that works for SaskPower, we work up to Langenburg, to as far down to the States border, and anything along Highway 8 going east is a problem," he said.

"That whole strip to the Manitoba border has poor coverage. It's not just directly east of Moosomin, but it's that whole side of the province in this corner.

"I run a cell booster in my truck on the job just to have better service."

The Mayor of Spy Hill stated that residents in town have commented about slow internet connections, but have not experienced cellphone service issues.

However people in the RM of Spy Hill face issues with reception often.

FINANCIAL PLANNING

Dollar-cost averaging: A winning strategy to manage market volatility

If you're like many Canadian investors, you've already started planning for your retirement years through savings vehicles like Registered Retirement Savings Plans (RRSPs), typically with a balanced portfolio of fixed-income investments such as bonds and equities to ensure you are properly diversified.

Dollar-Cost Averaging: a winning strategy to manage market volatility

If you're like many Canadian investors, you've already started planning for your retirement years through savings vehicles like Registered Retirement Savings Plans (RRSPs), typically with a balanced portfolio of fixed-income investments such as bonds and equities to ensure you are properly diversified.

In addition to having a well-diversified portfolio, your IG Wealth Management Consultant will work with you to develop investment strategies to help manage market fluctuations and safeguard your retirement savings. One proven strategy that takes advantage of changing prices and improves your odds of success in the face of volatility is dollar-cost averaging (DCA).

Reduce the risk of "buying high"

Dollar-cost averaging is an investing technique you may have heard of but may not know how it gets used as part of an IG Living Plan™. The concept is straightforward – by purchasing smaller amounts of a given investment on a regular basis, rather than investing up front in a lump sum, you can reduce the risk of "buying high" by spreading out the purchases over a given time period. Over time, this purchasing strategy can lower the average cost per investment unit and can help you manage unpredictable market volatility. It's a good way to manage your investment risk and help bolster your long-term returns.

Here is an example of how dollar-cost averaging can mitigate risk in a volatile market:

- Two investors each have $600 to invest.
- Investor A chooses to purchase a given investment (for example, units in a mutual fund) through a lump sum purchase of $600 on January 1st. They buy 58.8 units at $10.20.
- Investor B takes the advice of an IG Consultant and invests $100 a month from January through June and over the course of six months purchases units at an average price of $9.90.

The result

Setting up regular contributions and taking advantage of DCA was advice that paid off for Investor B. It took the guesswork out of trying to time the market and resulted in a lower average cost. Seeing the results makes it easier to stay committed to regular contributions.

Make dollar-cost averaging part of your investment strategy

If you are still contributing a one-time, annual lump sum to your IG Living Plan, now is the time to connect with your IG Consultant to discuss switching to monthly or biweekly contributions. Switching is easy and pre-authorized contributions (PACs) can help you take advantage of the ups and downs of the market.

The light blue line represents the average unit cost of $9.90 when bought over six months. An investor who bought the same fund on January 1st would have paid $10.20 for each fund unit.

Virден Theatre Productions putting on Matilda the Musical in November

Virден Theatre Productions can hardly wait for its exciting return to the Auditorium Theatre stage with the blockbuster show Matilda the Musical.

This show is a really clever, imaginative, new production, and it has won multiple awards including Best New Musical.

We began plans for this production in 2020, and the cast has changed slightly—including all the young talent becoming two years older!

The characters of Matilda are so very colourful, and we have our actors brilliantly cast to entertain you. The set, choreography, and magic of Matilda are offering us endless exciting, theatrical challenges and possibilities.

Souris talent, Nyah Perkin, will play the title role of Matilda. Nyah is an experienced performer fresh from a summer of performing professionally at Winnipeg's Rainbow Stage. She has appeared in a Hallmark movie and plays a lead role in a soon-to-be-released feature film.

The memorable villain in Matilda is Miss Agatha Trunchbull, and local actor Todd Plaisier is guaranteed to bring the house down in his performance as the school's headmistress.

Susan Martens, a golden-voiced private music teacher from Virден, is perfectly suited to her role as the sweet and supportive teacher Miss Honey.

Matilda's horrible parents, the Wormwoods, will be played by audience favourite Dean Munchinsky (who is also sharing directing duties) and Brandon rock star Mariah Phillips.

Veteran actress Karen Chrest of Brandon will play Mrs. Phelps, the quirky librarian and VCI's Zander Janzen will make his VTP debut as Matilda's lazy brother, Michael Wormwood.

One of the most exciting components of Matilda, and absolutely the reason it was chosen as our next show, is the ensemble of students.

A shot of Trunchbull in action.

Our 2022 student ensemble is chock full of incredibly talented local youth.

Dylan Southam will be truly amazing in the role of Bruce, and Charley Dunning will shine as Matilda's best friend Lavender. Fourteen of Westman's finest teens fill out this exceptional group—Laura Archambault, Keira

Peters, Daelyn Fefchak, Evan Terin, Sam Andrew, Sarah Keown, Darien Dunning, Cody Thiessen, Jamie Thiessen, Avrin Krieser, Piper Sisson, Paige Rampton, Tristan Plaisier, Reed Plaisier, and Scotlyn Chadney.

Virден Theatre Productions is also fortunate to have incredible professional level performers in the dynamic (and some hilarious) supporting roles of Matilda—Darrell Corbel as the doctor, Greg Kirk (Santa from Elf) as the children's entertainer, Rob Lovatt as the escapologist, Chloe Sheane as the acrobat, Joey Simms (Buddy the Elf) as Rudolpho, and George Baker as Sergei.

To top it off, we have some amazing adults rounding out our cast (and supporting all the youth)—Marlin-Peters, Wendy Bancescu, Mark Keown, Mike Thiessen, Adelle Gervin, Scott Perkin, and Cheryl Sisson.

Our biggest challenge this fall is finding a way to make this show, with its budget of over $30,000, happen.

Each year we rely on our faithful volunteer crew, local sponsors, and ticket sales to fund performance rights, facility rental, technology, sets, and costumes.

This year poses an extra challenge as our headset microphones have come to the end of their lives, and somehow we need to raise an extra $20,000 to replace them.

We are certainly hoping our community supports us, as we know how our productions invigorate our community and make it a destination for audience members from all over. We have something incredibly unique to be proud of.

Tickets for Matilda went on sale September 10 for five shows on November 9, 10, and 12 at 7:30 pm and November 12 and 13 at 1:30 pm.

Women in Trades workshops at Rocanville

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER
In partnership with Goodman Steel, Nixon Electrical Service, and Sask Polytechnic, the Nutrien Rocanville site has completed two of their three Women in Trades (WIT) exploratory workshops this past September.

The final workshop will be held on Oct. 15 and 16 with a focus on welding and machining.

"I'm hoping these workshops make these girls aware of not only these trades that we're going through with them, but to let them know about the different opportunities that exist out there," said Taneisha Ohnander, automation project co-ordinator at Nutrien Rocanville.

"There's lots of girls and people in school where the jobs are very narrow. They assume that teaching and nursing are the only opportunities, but there's so much more."

The purpose of the program is to expose young women, ages 15 to 19, to different trade opportunities that are available.

Many of the mentors involved in leading the program came from Nutrien's WINTER (Women in Nontraditional Environments and Roles) mentorship program, BERG (Black Employee Resource Group), and Allies of these women.

"Going through these workshops we've also had volunteers from different careers, not only just mechanics, welders, and electricians who have come, but we've also had some lab technicians come, I'm an electrical technologist that's there too," Ohnander said.

"We're showing them what's out there, and if anything piques their interest that they want to pursue, they can ask us any questions, so we help support them through that, and worse case scenario, at least they know what they don't like."

"The workshops will give them some good idea of what's out there and show the light that there are other jobs out there."

The first workshop focused on carpentry and automotive. Participants learned about a variety of common hand and power tools within the carpentry trade, basic maintenance of automotive vehicles, and how to use them safely.

In the second workshop, girls learned about information on electrical and plumbing. They focused on how to run wires in a residential setting, and learned how to run and install crosslinked polyethylene electrical outlet.

Ohnander works as an electrical engineering technologist at the Nutrien Rocanville site.

From being one of the lead co-ordinators for the workshops, Ohnander said the program encouraged girls to sign up for all three workshops in order to introduce them to multiple fields of work.

"When they signed up they actually signed up for all three weekends," she said.

"Originally we had it where you could sign up for separate weekends, but my concern was that if a girl didn't like carpentry or plumbing and they skip it, then there's the potential that they missed out

"I'm hoping these workshops make these girls aware of . . . the different opportunities that exist out there" on a passion that they may have actually loved from that day.

—Taneisha Ohnander

"Having them sign up for all six weeks, has not forced them into it, but made sure they got to try all the different workshops."

The workshops originally had 12 spots available, but by the time Nutrien was done promoting the program in Rocanville and surrounding communities, more than 20 young women were interested.

"We extended it to 14 kids, but by the time we got to the end of the week we had 12 additional girls who were hoping to get into it," Ohnander said.

More women have shown an interest in trades

Based on how the first two workshops went and speaking about the program to people in the community, Ohnander noticed an increase of women who sparked an interest in trades.

"I have noticed an interest and honestly not just with the younger girls" she said.

"With the SaskPolytech exploratory program we're putting on right now, they originally offered this at their campuses and we just put it out here in Rocanville, but originally it's hosted for women ages 15 and up. They've seen women up to the age of 60 participating in these events."

"From that, and when I was trying to build the awareness to get these kids excited, I'm hoping we can do more of this not only for women, but even for men and people of all ages because I think the average person changes their career seven times in their life."

"How many adults are still going through those seven career changes that workshops like these, can be an opportunity for them to try it out and see if one of these things, are what they want to pursue."

Ohnander said the first two workshops went amazing.

"In general we have a wicked group of girls," she said.

"Right from day one they sparked this adorable friendship that by the fourth day, they were giving each other copper rings out of the electrical scraps that we had, and they were all married."

"They've been so fun, they've been so engaged to the point that anytime there's a question or someone is asked to participate in something, their hands are just shooting up saying they want to do it."

"It's been so fun, I can't say enough about how great it's all gone so far. No one has been injured either, we all go home safe every time which is obviously a good bonus that we all hope to see every time."

In the final workshop, happening on Oct. 15 and 16, participants will learn the basics about gas welding where MIG welding will be specifically covered.

The women in the workshop will also learn to assemble and tack weld steel, use assorted shaping methods, as well as use cleaning, finishing, and cutting tools at Goodman Steel.

"I hope they have a good time, I know that there's a few girls in there that love welding, personally anytime I work with the welder underground I want to do it," Ohnander said.

"I'm expecting this next shop to be the most fun out there. I'm really hoping they just have fun, if we get a pile of machinists and welders out of it, that's a huge win too."

"I hope we get to go home with some goodies, because I think they'll be welding dice, sort of a cube, and I believe they'll be machining a hammer."

"I also hope I get some long time friendships with these kids and that I don't just see them for these few weekends and they disappear forever because, again, they've been a blast to hang out with."

With the success from the program, Ohnander said the organization may host another series of workshops in Spring 2023.

"I've planted the seed to have more workshops (in the future), obviously it's just going to be the funding that we have to make sure is in place to do this again," she said.

"SaskPoly isn't making money off of this, it's really just to cover their expenses. Between expenses, supplies, gas and instructor fees, it does add up. As long as we can get funding I'm more than happy to."

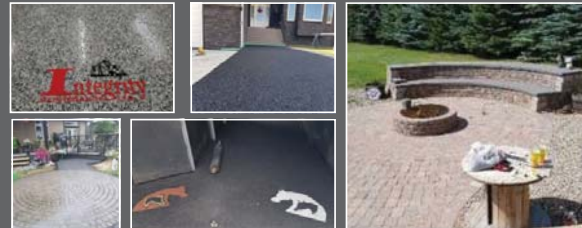

"Once this last workshop is done, I hope to start looking into potentially a spring class, but nothing is in place, that is just my hope."

Moosomin Rodeo Committee donates $5000 to Moosomin Fire Department

Each year the Moosomin Rodeo Committee chooses an organization to donate a portion of proceeds to from the rodeo event. This year, the Moosomin Fire Department was the organization of choice as a very important pillar of the community. The Fire Department volunteered their time to tend the bar the evening of the Bulls & Broncs event. The Rodeo Committee also held an auction of a Traeger BBQ at half-time with proceeds going to the Fire Department. With those proceeds and another successful rodeo event, the Committee was able to donate $5,000 to the Moosomin Fire Department. Above is Moosomin Rodeo Committee Vice President Chelan Beckett making the donation to Peter Nabholz and Jack Thompson with the fire department.

Dr. Linsie Landa Moosomin Dental Centre

I was born and raised on a farm in Assiniboia, SK. Dentistry runs in my family, both my mother and aunt were dental therapists and then hygienists. From an early age I knew I wanted to have an occupation in the dental community. Dentistry is so dynamic and gives me the ability to continually learn and expand my skill set. I graduated from UBC in Vancouver, B.C. with a Bachelor of Science degree and a minor in Psychology. I then pursued my career in Dentistry, graduating with honours.

I currently work at Moosomin Dental Centre as a Dentist with Dr. Olafson and have been there for over 4 years. I am very grateful that I had strong female role models to look up to throughout my childhood. I have always been encouraged to follow my dreams and achieve my goals. I would like to be a positive role model for other young women who wish to pursue further education in any of the vast opportunities available to them.

Dr. Pat Biglow-Lecomte Moosomin Dental Clinic

Life as a dentist began with graduation back in 1988, with the academic accomplishment of the Gold Medal for highest academic average over four years. I then worked as an associate in Winnipeg for seven years, and Moosomin Dental Clinic was purchased in 1995.

Being in business introduced me a host of new skills: overseeing building a new clinic, managing a staff, computerization, new clinical skills including orthodontics and implants, bookkeeping, maintenance and new Covid protocols. With two family businesses, and three children active in many activities, I feel this could only have been done in a community like Moosomin with abundant local support and proximity for so many aspects of daily living.

I wish to thank all the staff and community members that have supported Moosomin Dental Clinic for the past 25 years for the imperfect perfection that is a challenging practice. Though no longer responsible for the practice management, I continue to enjoy working with the many wonderful clients that have supported the office. Thanks again to all.

Gayleen Gurr Pampered Chef

I started selling Pampered Chef products in April of 1998. At that time, the company was only two years old with an awesome product. I wanted to work for myself and this was a good way to do that! I also felt there was a gap in the area for this kitchen product and I wanted to fill that gap. Since 1998 the product line has expanded to include everything from basic cooking to pantry items, to entertaining and to include small appliances.

I've built a team of 10 independent consultants that I've helped to start their own business. I have consultants from B.C. to Manitoba.

I really love being able to see my consultants succeed. It's really neat when they have a financial goal they want to reach, like buying a new car or paying for their kids' sports, and they make enough money through Pampered Chef to be able to do that! It's so nice to see them succeed, and you also make some awesome friendships along the way.

Bert and I live in Langbank with our very pampered pet cat Blackie. I enjoy gardening, spending time with family, cooking, and volunteering with my church in Kipling and with the Moosomin Armoury. We are busy, but look forward to serving you!

Melanie Tribiger Sun Country Hearing Ltd.

Melanie has worked for Sun Country Hearing since it opened in 2014. Since then, Melanie has taken on every role within the clinic and found a love for helping people hear and communicate better. Melanie eventually decided to pursue an education as a Hearing Aid Practitioner and graduated from MacEwan University in 2021.

When the clinic's previous owner, Jacquie Mvula, decided it was time for her to sell the clinic, Melanie was ready to take on the challenge of business ownership. Having learned the business from the ground up has given Melanie a unique perspective on the operations of the clinic that translates to a pleasant experience within the clinic for her clients.

Melanie's passion for helping her clients comes from her own experiences with her Dad when his health began to fail. Frustrated with the treatment he sometimes received during appointments, Melanie makes it her mission to treat every one of her clients with the care and compassion she would give her own parents, friends, or family.

Sun Country Hearing's primary location is in Estevan, SK, Melanie's hometown. While Moosomin is not her hometown, Melanie is proud to offer you your very own 'Hometown Hearing Clinic' right here in your hometown.

Sandra Garrett The Witch's Brew

Hi all, I'm Sandra Garrett. I grew up in Maryfield Sask, but I have lived in Moosomin for 29 years. Moosomin is my home town. To tell the truth, this is not where I thought I would be all those years ago, but I can't imagine living anywhere else now! Moosomin is the town where my husband Trevor and I have raised our son, and built a life.

In 1997 I was given the opportunity to complete the Apprenticeship program through SIAST and receive My Red Seal Journey person in the Cooking Trade (Red Seal Chef). When Trevor and I decided 13 years ago to take a chance and open The Witch's Brew, it was a very big asset to have the knowledge from my training to bring my dream to reality!

Initially I was thinking it would be only a small coffee shop with some desserts. Boy was I wrong! Over the past 13 years we have evolved from drink, desserts and one daily lunch feature into a full service daytime restaurant with catering and private functions available for evenings. Witch's Brew has surpassed all expectations I initially had.

We know for certain that we wouldn't be where we are today without our family and our customers! The support we get from our town, surrounding towns and rural area is nothing short of amazing! Supporting our local business helps us support your local fundraisers, local sports teams, and local events! Thank you everyone for your support.

A huge thank you to my family, friends and clients for their continued help in making my business a success.

Buying and selling real estate doesn't have to be stressful or confusing. I am happy to answer your questions and I look forward to helping you.

Angela Hales Urban Market

I have recently moved back to Moosomin. In 2003 I moved out to Alberta. In 2012 we welcomed twin girls into our lives. I was lucky enough to be a stay-at-home mom. In 2018, we decided to purchase our laser engraving machine. It was something Chad and I could do together. In 2019, we expanded the business and added custom apparel. We decided to put some product in at Main Street Market in Okotoks. Then in 2020, we expanded out to The Hive in Nanton, AB. We loved the concept so much we decided to bring it to Moosomin.

I love being able to help small home based businesses sell their items. The excitement in their voices when I say they have sold something is the best.

Billie Johnson Paperclip Cottage Café

I was born and raised in Cypress Hills and went to work in the oil patch for over a decade before I moved back to Kipling, where my mother was raised. This is where I wanted to raise my family, in small town Saskatchewan.

My mom, Ellen Johnson, is a Red Seal Chef. When the empty paperclip house on Main Street came up for sale, they wanted to put something in it because it is famous, and she decided that this town needed a little something, and that is how we ended up with the restaurant!

My mom and I started out running the restaurant as partners, and she has since retired, but everything in the Paperclip is based on her vision. Everything is homemade. The business is built on my mom's recipe for fresh bread every day, homemade cakes, pies, desserts, salads, soups and custom baking. On that fresh bread we make our famous cottage sandwiches. I also do catering, from weddings to grads, to barbecues to special occasions, plus I am a custom baker, so I can do pies, cheesecakes, cakes, etc.

We opened our doors in April 15, 2010—12 years ago. The house was built in 1912 and the house itself is famous, so us being here gives people a reason to come in and take a look! Plus we have become known for our great food!

I still love the cooking, the baking and the people. I love the fact that there were a lot of young staff who got their first start here. Now, I have my right hand person, Dorothy Kovach, to help me. We get pretty much four hours of absolute crazy around here every day!

We are open from 9 am to 3 pm on weekdays for breakfast and lunch each day. We are closed Saturday and Sunday. We are closed December 21 - March 1 for winter.

I love this community and all the work I get to do in it!

Rita Herperger Orenda Healing

Rita Herperger, Owner and Holistic Therapist of Orenda Healing in Stockholm, Sask. is described as an empathetic, compassionate, non-judgmental, and caring woman, who has taken these qualities and expanded her knowledge to address the needs of all. To this end, she has created a holistic approach in her practice, which helps her to help others build from a foundation of self-love; growing and experiencing life from a more positive perspective.

Classically trained as a Social Worker, Rita noticed that talk therapy/counselling by itself was not always effective in helping clients reach the root of their issues, where true healing must begin. She started her own healing journey in the middle of her own burn-out through sessions with a world-renowned Psychic Medium, in addition to traditional counselling. From there Rita followed her heart-she received training in Yoga—Kids, studied card reading, started meditating, became a Counseling Hypnotherapist, Mindfulness Coach and Reiki Master Teacher. She also opened herself and accepted her gift as a Psychic Medium.

Identifying as a Holistic Therapist, Rita integrates traditional psychological tools and strategies with spiritual energetic healing practices to create a personalized, holistic approach to healing for her clients. Rita's unwavering belief in the interconnectedness of the mind, body, and spirit as the foundation to overall wellness, super-charges her passion to help all people to be the highest version of themselves.

With close to 20 years of experience as a registered social worker and counsellor, she is honored to include clients from across Canada, South Africa, UK, Brazil, and the US among her list of clientele and looks forward to including you in this list of healing!

Pat Siemens Pat's Pictures

Hello. I am Pat Siemens and I operate a small Photography business known as Pat's Pictures out of our home. I was born and raised in Brandon, Manitoba but now married for over 20 years and residing near Kola, Manitoba on a farm with my husband and 2 boys.

My passion for photography started in high school. So here I am, 32 plus years later, I still have the same passion and it continues to grow. As a photographer, I have participated in courses and seminars to keep current and that will always be an ongoing process.

I have seen many changes in photography over the years with the advent of digital photography. It has become as much art as simply photographing portraits. I'm still a firm believer in quality portraits that belong on the walls, over mantels, and also in our wallets.

Pat's Pictures has evolved from wedding and family photography to now including school portraits, sports teams and individuals, graduations, passport pictures, and event photography.

A huge thank you goes out to my devoted clientele and many wonderful people that I've met and continuing to meet. They keep me passionate about my photography which makes me continue to strive to deliver quality.

Jen O'Rourke Bear and Roo clothing

I'm a mom to 3, 2 girls and a boy. I moved to Moosomin 8 years ago from Manitoba. Prior to moving I taught kindergarten for several years.

As a family we enjoy spending time at the rink during winter and attending dance for one of our girls. During summer we can be found at our lake in Manitoba.

When pregnant with my second child I noticed a need for cute, comfy clothing for children. Buying my first sewing machine while pregnant I quickly learned the ropes of sewing and started sewing for my children. Eventually sewing for others as well.

I started the company in September 2015. After a full year in business I added an adult line to the mix, then quickly added athletics for all sizes.

Womens wear has quickly topped the scales of bear and roo popularity. We offer children's and adult clothing ranging from newborn to 12y in child sizes and xs to plus size for adults. Clothing includes athletics, swim wear, comfy and Casual wear. Items are made to order through our website only.

I am proud of the growth bear and roo has seen during these past few years as well as the local community support. I'm proud to have other women from the community that are employed in this business as well I have trained students to be successful within this lost trade.

I enjoy that my kids like being a part of bear and roo as much as I do. They help with fabrics and styles. There is something about when your kiddos want to wear mama made clothing.

Carmen Hamilton Royal LePage Premier Realty

Fresh out of high school in 2010, diploma in hand and my first set of real estate textbooks on order, I was both excited and nervous to get started on my real estate career. Jump to January 2012 after completing my Real Estate schooling & receiving my Interior Design diploma, I was signing my first contract as a licensed Realtor in Saskatchewan, not to mention, I was the youngest Realtor in the province at the time at the age of 20.

Naive, but ambitious, I took on the most challenging first couple years of my career selling Real Estate in Moose Jaw, SK where in only a year I gained top producing agent in my brokerage. In 2014, I moved back to the Moosomin area where I've been selling real estate ever since.

Today, I am a member with Royal LePage Premier Realty and specialize in buying and selling residential real estate in the Moosomin area. In the past 11 years I've achieved many top achievement awards; president's gold & director's platinum awards, and have been honoured to sell over 250 properties with over $43 million in sales. If I'm not selling real estate, you can find me at South Prairie Residential Design here in Moosomin, designing kitchens & homes with my husband!

Essentially Yours - Hair by Jess

I grew up in Esterhazy and moved to Saskatoon where I took my training as a stylist and esthetician at Marca College.

I worked at a hair salon/day spa in the city for a year and then decided to take a job at a busy salon in my hometown where I finished out my apprenticeship. After becoming certified as a journeyman hairstylist in 2005, I decided to open my own salon in Esterhazy offering full esthetic and hair services.

In 2011, after the birth of our second child, I made the decision to devote more time to our young family and sell the salon.

I continued to work part-time as a stylist and in 2013 we made the move to a farm near my husband's hometown of Welwyn. This is where our third child was born. We love this area!

I now run my salon "Essentially Yours" in Rocanville and I am loving every minute of it.

I am active in volunteering, curling and watching my kids and their activities.

Erin Gurney

Erin's I.D.A. Pharmacy

At 422 Main Street in Esterhazy, you'll likely find the owner/pharmacist, Erin Gurney behind the counter! Erin was born and raised here in Esterhazy and now resides just outside of Tantallon with her husband Aaron, and their three children; Layne, Laityn and Maveryk. In addition to operating a successful grain and cattle farm, Erin and Aaron had a big dream to one day own a small-town pharmacy. That dream was made a reality and in July of 2020, the doors opened to Erin's I.D.A. Pharmacy. In the two years that have gone by, they've never regretted taking the leap at ownership.

After graduating in 2011 from the U of S with a Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy degree, Erin came back to Esterhazy to start her career. She has always enjoyed working in the community she grew up in and has welcomed the opportunity to be a part of the healthcare team for so many amazing people. "Every interaction is important and taking the time to really get to know our patients is a priority, always. Not only do we want to provide exceptional patient care, but we want to offer a comfortable environment where people are free to ask questions as well. And for those who prefer, we have a private counseling room that is always available."

Erin and Aaron have given back to the community in many ways over the past two years. "It's important to show our support for our local community and the organizations in our area. There are so many amazing activities and events that go on and we want to continue to see that happening! We are grateful to be able to give back in any way we can, whenever we can!"

Sole Much Better Foot Care

I started my career as a Paramedic in 2001 followed closely by being a Licensed Practical Nurse in 2003. I have lived in many places throughout Saskatchewan from northern to southern villages/towns/cities.

Feet are taken for granted! They are with us 24/7 but are often neglected until it is too late. We may get dry, cracked skin, corns, calluses, fungal infections, ingrown nails, plantar fasciitis and maybe even wounds. Over the years, through nursing, I have helped individuals in a nursing home or hospital setting which made me realize that preventative care is needed.

I started Sole Much Better Foot Care in 2019 to help those in my community and surrounding area take that step in putting themselves first and receive Nursing Foot Care. Working with healthcare colleagues, Physicians and Podiatrists, referrals are exchanged to give you the best possible outcome. In 2021, I gained my Pedicure Technician certificate which gives me the opportunity to provide a broader range of foot care treatments. I treat corns, calluses, dry and cracked feet, thick nails, ingrown, fungal, toenails in need of reconstruction, diabetes and more as part of my Advanced Nursing Foot Care. I provide spa pedicures with or without nail polish, paraffin wax treatments, leg/foot massage, all ages are encouraged to come, and side-by-side pedicures can be arranged. In 2022, I completed a course to offer Thai Foot Reflexology & Massage. This is a treat to allow yourself to relax for an hour. Coming soon I will be offering manicures.

Referrals and you returning for treatments mean everything to me! I know that I have your trust and have provided a great quality of care. The best part of my job are the smiles and thank-yous I receive after. Two clients I will never forget are a lady who took her walker and started pacing in her house with continued thank yous. She had not been able to walk well prior due to the condition of her nails. The second was during a client's first visit with me I found a wound in between his toes. He knew there was something there but because he was unable to see he didn't realize the severity of it. He was referred that day to his family physician.

I look forward to meeting you for one of my treatments. www.solemuchbetterfootcare.ca has more information about my products and treatments. I can be followed on Facebook and Instagram.

Aspen Grove Campground

Aspen Grove Campground is a local family run campground. 2023 will be our 13th season running the campground. We have awesome campers who have been very supportive over the years and many, many repeat visitors. In addition this year we have experienced an influx of new campers from all over Manitoba & Saskatchewan. I am originally from Brandon, MB where I graduated from Brandon University. I headed off to Europe for a couple of years before returning to Western Manitoba. A dozen years later I became involved with Aspen Grove Campground.

In 2011 the opportunity presented itself to purchase Aspen Grove Campground with our former partners. My husband and I continued working in our respective fields, I had spent over 15 years in finance, while running the campground. Finally we gave up our day jobs to run Aspen Grove full time (2015 & 2017 respectively). I have been running the campground full time with my husband since 2017. I look after the front of the house and he looks after the back of the house. In 2018 we bought out our partners and now are accountable to each other and our campers.

The front of the house is what I do: I look after the staffing, the store, the reservations and all the books, shopping, ordering etc. We have wonderful staff who have been invaluable to us over the years which we are very grateful for.

Our camp store is a small but a very versatile part of the campground. It is the heart of the campground, you do everything there. Register, check in and out, pay for mini golf, purchase wifi, get change for the laundry, make your reservations plus do your shopping. I like to say we have everything you need and don't need. So all the necessities that one might need or have forgotten, and then there is the fun stuff. The toys for the pool, some apparel, premade desserts, meals & salads (supporting local businesses) plus lots more. I get many of my ideas from our campers. If they ask for something and we don't have it, it goes on the list and we try it out. We are constantly expanding our offerings. There is always something new.

We would welcome you to come camp with us again or for the first time. We are located between Virden, MB and Oak Lake, MB right off the Trans Canada Hwy. We offer full service 50/30amp sites, and we have upgraded WiFi available throughout the park. We look forward to another busy season in 2023!

We take bookings all year round! Please feel free to call us at 204-855-2260 (leave a message) or visit our website:

Rae Mitten

Mitten Law Office

The influences on my choice of professions are several. Firstly, the strong formative education I received in Orangeville School up to and including grade five, and later Moosomin School, grades six to twelve, provided me with a strong academic background from which I could make meaningful choices for a future career. Kudos to several of my teachers who have survived this experience, namely Della (Webster) Crosson and Henry (Hank) Reis, and as well they attended and spoke of their experiences at School Reunions in Orangeville and Moosomin, respectively, in 2017.

I followed in their footsteps teaching in Redvers, SK for some 30 years. Secondly, living in Saskatchewan, Canada, at the time of significant social democratic developments, such as Medicare, on the one hand, and the Charter of Rights and Freedoms, on the other, eventually focused my attention on social justice and the law, in addition to education.

I pursued further studies at the University of Regina receiving an M.A. in 1974, and at the University of Saskatchewan, where I also served as a teaching assistant and sessional lecturer, receiving from the University of Saskatchewan inter alia a JD (2000), an LLM (2004) and a PhD (2011). My sabbatical was also assisted by the receipt of the P. E. MacKenzie Scholarship in 1998, and the Law Society of Saskatchewan's E. M. Culliton Scholarship for Graduate Studies in Criminal Law in 2013. Both Justices P. E. MacKenzie and E. M. Culliton had been Chief Justices of the Court of Appeal of Saskatchewan, where I served a Clerkship in 2001, when Edward Bayda was the Chief Justice, and all three were very distinguished jurists.

E. M. Culliton, was particularly noted for his legal advocacy for farmers during the drought and great depression when he practiced Law in Gravelbourg, Saskatchewan, and later for advocating the preparation and role of the Appellate Courts, necessitating the hiring of Law Clerks to assist with the research and preparation.

After my JD, I articulated (factually termed a clerkship) at the Court of Appeal of Saskatchewan, listening to the appellate court hearings, and writing Bench Memos for the Justices. It was wonderful to see them again at the 100th Anniversary Celebration of the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal, March 19, 2018. I also completed a portion of my articles at MLT, Regina, and worked as a legal assistant at MLT, Saskatoon (both now MLT Aikins) one summer, following receipt of their Entrance Scholarship to the College of Law, University of Saskatchewan, and at MLT, Regina, as part of my in-firm articles while clerking at the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal, 2000-2001.

I was admitted to the Saskatchewan Bar in 2001. I also took seminars in Alternate Dispute Resolution. I now have a small solo practice, Mitten Law, in Redvers, SK, but I'm not taking any new clients at this time due to illness in the family.

Prior to entering a career in Law, I taught 31 years in Redvers, SK, including teaching the following subjects, Chemistry 20 and 30, Physics 20 and 30, General Science 10, and Psychology 20 and 30, and other subjects as assigned. I also served as a teaching assistant and sessional lecturer at the College of Law, University of Saskatchewan.

I have also completed my second three-year term as an elected senator of the University of Saskatchewan.

Rising Phoenix Café

I opened Rising Phoenix Cafe November 2, 2021. I had been in the building before (renting) through a previous partnership and due to circumstances went my own path. After a short hiatus, lessons learned and some soul searching I was ready to take the chance and start all over again, this time as the sole owner with the support of my husband, Aaron, and our family. Out of the ashes the Rising Phoenix Cafe came to fruition. I began this business through my love of cooking and baking from generations of hardworking farm women who tirelessly fed everyone. At the Rising Phoenix Cafe you may see my Mom, Gisele, helping out on her day off or my stepdaughter & manager, Karissa, greeting you at the counter with a smile. My oldest daughter can often be found stopping in for a treat or a craft class or helping Mom out with a few cleaning tasks. Most of my staff are family or like family, so it is just a great atmosphere to be doing what I love! When you love what you do it doesn't feel like work at all.

The vision of Rising Phoenix Cafe is family and community. I was born and raised on the family farm near Fertile and attended Redvers School from Kindergarten to Grade 12 Graduation. Now my three daughters attend the same school and have had a few of the teachers who also taught me. My twin daughters are nonverbal with autism so having a loving, caring environment, school and community to grow up in has been amazing. Because of my fantastic staff I am able to balance my schedule for my daughters' therapies or any appointments as needed while still being "in the office" early every day (even when the Cafe is closed) to bake treats, homemade buns & breads, lunch specials, fresh prep meals, frozen entrees for easy suppers and homemade soups.

At Rising Phoenix Cafe we offer a sense of community with things like: adult & kid craft classes, kid's baking classes, unique classes like tea leaf reading, brunches, a rental event space for birthdays, parties, showers, staff parties, Christmas parties, in-house catered events and offsite catering. The support from my hometown community, family and friends has been amazing and we are beyond blessed to be in Redvers. We like to partner with other businesses that fit with our vision and work with a lot of other Women in Business. Rising Phoenix Cafe is truly my dream come true.

Chelsea Stewart House of Hearing

I am passionate about helping people of all ages, and strive to provide patients with individualized hearing solutions.

I am a registered audiologist who graduated from the University of Western Ontario with a Masters of Clinical Science degree in Audiology in 2014. I also hold a Bachelor of Science Degree in Communication Disorders.

I live in Esterhazy with my husband Tyler, and three kids—Trey, Brooke and T.J. I enjoy watching and playing sports and spending time at our family cabin at Buena Vista, Saskatchewan.

I thrive on providing exceptional care and taking time to get to know patients and their families, and I am focused on making these services more accessible for people in rural Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Throughout my career I have seen the strain on patients and families to access hearing healthcare and I am passionate about making these services more accessible. I hope to make the process as stress-free and simple as possible for patients so they are able to enjoy all the little and big moments in life.

In March 2020 in the midst of Covid, my husband relocated for work to Esterhazy. I was working in a career that I loved, however, I was missing the time together as a family. I wanted to be able to continue to do what I was so passionate about, but also have the flexibility to spend time with my husband and three young kids. As a result, House of Hearing was born!

Guided by a passion to help, House of Hearing ensures all patients are cared for and informed every step of the way. This begins with a comprehensive evaluation, counseling, honest recommendations, and creating individualized treatment plans including advanced and up-to-date hearing technology options. From the moment you walk into the clinic, I am committed to providing you the care and service that you need. I treat my patients like family and go above and beyond to find a solution to their hearing needs. Services include: hearing tests, hearing aids, earwax removal, hearing aid repair, on-site services, and more!

Jeannie Skulmoski Royal LePage Martin Liberty Sask Realty

Hello! My name is Jeannie Skulmoski, and I am a Realtor with Royal LePage Martin-Liberty (Sask) Realty. I am married to Jeff Skulmoski, and he is the reason I moved to Moosomin from Regina! We farm just 3 miles North of the Viterra terminal at Fairlight and have 4 amazing children that keep us running all 12 months of the year! I am a teacher by trade originally and can sometimes be seen subbing at McNaughton High School here in Moosomin, as well as at Rocanville School. I love being around teenagers and all their sassiness! I learn something new every time I am in the school and most days leave laughing at the hilarity that had gone on in one way or another!

The reason I became a realtor is that I wanted to work a business that was just for me. I am actively involved with the farm and running the kids around, so I needed something that could work around that, most of the time, and keep me around people as I am a social person! I love meeting new people, as well as, helping people any way that I can. This job seemed like a good fit for me and so far, I am loving every aspect of it! There is not a day that goes by that I don't learn something new! If you are in the market for a new home or are wanting to sell your home to move onto the next chapter, I am more than willing to help you in all the ways I can! I enjoy being someone that can bring happiness to people in stressful times of their lives. I really enjoy easing people's fears about one of the biggest adjustments that they can make! I am extremely proud and humbled by how many people have taken a chance on a new realtor like myself in just a short amount of time! It makes me smile to know that people are trusting me to guide them during these times of their lives and I am so very grateful to all my clients to date!

Kari Kosior Kari's Kloset

Kari comes from Virden, Manitoba where she graduated from high school. After receiving a diploma in Business Administration, Kari began her career in fashion and retail as a sales associate with Ricki's in the Brandon Shoppers' Mall. She aspired to own a clothing store of her own someday and dreamt of moving back to a small town to make this dream come true. After gaining several years managing in the field she met Jeannie Waterman, which later connected her to buying the building where JayLyn's Boutique was located in downtown Moosomin.

14 years later, Kari's Kloset is well known for its great service, its great displays and for its large selection in ladies clothing, footwear and accessories. Her social media and online business is flourishing. Kari's "Friday Live" on Facebook has become well known over the last year. Every Friday at 9:30 am Kari goes on "Live" video to present new arrivals or the latest trends or shows off whatever great sale is currently happening to her followers. Every live runs about 30 minutes and can be viewed again any time after on her Facebook business page.

Kari has 20 years experience in the clothing retail industry. Her staff, Helen has worked there for 14 years, Jolene for 9.5 years, Robin for 9 years, Jenn for 8 years, and Janelle in Bookkeeping for 6 years. They are a "work" family, who together have the reputation of being honest, helpful, reliable and fun!

Kari loves working with her clients, working on visual merchandising and doing the buying and ordering for the store. She has made so many amazing relationships along the way with her customers, sales reps, and fellow business colleagues.

She never dreamt part of her job would entail taking "selfies" and writing as many captions as she does for her online posts, but she has grown to appreciate any opportunity she has been given to connect with her customers near and far.

Kari and her husband, Ben Kosior farm near Fleming. They have two daughter's, Billee (7) and Rayna (5) and their two dogs, Lady and Aery and their cat Bo.

Kerry Smulan Korner Kones

My name is Kerry Smulan, and I am the proud owner of KoRner Kones Ice Cream shop in Wawota. I have lived in the Wawota area for 37 years now, though much of that time was spent on the farm, with my husband Randy, raising elk, dairy goats, a wide range of fowl, various exotic stock - and even more time consuming - two daughters. After the girls were grown and gone, and the farm animals were sold off as Randy pursued oilfield work full time, I needed a new project! It was then I took the opportunity to purchase the shop, formerly known as Mrs. P's, and grow it into what it has become today.

KoRner Kones is a seasonal ice cream shop offering premium real dairy soft serve, Chapman's hard ice cream, and delicious custom-made treats like our homemade ice cream sandwiches and drumsticks. We also offer custom ice cream cakes, and even added an edible ink photo printer to our arsenal this year! We also offer some food choices, such as taco-in-a-bag and smoked meat burritos on home-baked buns from a local baker!

I always call us a family-run business as not only does the whole family help out, but the summer students I employ also become part of the family. I am very proud of how the business has grown, drawing people from other towns near and far who come for a drive just to enjoy a great treat! This is the third year we have made the list of top ice cream stores in Saskatchewan! I love seeing all of the smiling faces and meeting new people. After all, everyone is happy when you hand them ice cream!

When I am not at the store in the summer, which is not very often, I enjoy spending time mowing the lawn and keeping the yard at the farm, as well as spending time with my family including my 11-year-old grandson. The winters I prefer to spend in Mexico! I am very grateful for the opportunity to nurture and grow my business and want to thank our loyal customers for their ongoing support. Without them, KoRner Kones wouldn't be the busy happy place it is today!

Andrea Balon Best Cellars

I started working at Best Cellars part-time when the store was opened five years ago in 2017, and I moved into the manager's role three years ago.

I'm originally from Alida, Saskatchewan. I graduated from Oxbow Prairie Heights School. I took a few extra courses along the way. I lived in Kipling for 20 years, where I have raised my two children—my daughter Kenzie, 20, and son Peyton, 17. My pastimes are going to the gym, spending time with family and friends, shopping, going to events, golfing, paddle boarding, and I enjoy taking care of myself with beauty pampering.

Over the years I have done a lot of different things—from being a nanny to waitressing to lifeguarding to working in a grocery store to painting—but I love what I do at Best Cellars!

What I enjoyed from each job I have worked at; I have incorporated it in what I have am doing here at Best Cellars. I love serving people, I love doing the displays, I love interacting with people, I love doing events. I enjoy lots of different kinds of liquor, so it's easy to sell the product in our store when you like the product! I really like promoting all of the Saskatchewan products as well because Saskatchewan has a lot to offer and a lot of people don't realize that. I am proud to live here!

People go out of their way to swing by Kipling because they like our store so much. It's a liquor boutique, it's not your average cookie cutter liquor store, and people love that.

The best thing about living in Kipling is that everyone knows you and everybody will help you out. There are lots of friendly faces, and I always look forward to seeing them in our store and making sure they leave with a smile!

Sask providing tuition-free education, child income support benefits to Ukrainians

The Government of Saskatchewan has made amendments to The Education Regulations, 2019 to ensure that all Ukrainian school aged students arriving through the Canada-Ukraine Authorization for Emergency Travel (CUAET) Program receive tuition-free Kindergarten to Grade 12 education.

"I am pleased with how our province has been able to welcome Ukrainian citizens dealing with unimaginable circumstances to Saskatchewan," Education Minister Dustin Duncan said. "Providing tuition-free education for these students is an essential step to ensuring these newcomers are able to settle as easily and comfortably as possible."

To date, more than 400 students from Ukraine enrolled through the CUAET program have registered in Saskatchewan schools.

The CUAET program was specifically established to support Ukrainians and family members fleeing the ongoing war. This new program offers Ukrainians and their family members free, extended temporary status and allows people to work, study and stay in Canada for up to three years if they continue to meet the criteria of the CUAET program.

The Government of Saskatchewan also announced that families in Saskatchewan through the Canada-Ukraine

Authorization for Emergency Travel (CUAET) are now eligible for additional income support benefits to help with the cost of raising children under 18 years of age.

The Ministry of Social Services has expanded eligibility for the Child Basic Benefit under the Saskatchewan Income Support (SIS) program and the Transitional Benefit for Children under the Saskatchewan Assured Income for Disability (SAID) program.

"The Government of Saskatchewan continues to support Ukrainian newcomers and help them settle into life in our province," Social Services Minister Gene Makowsky said. "Expanding the Child Basic Benefit to eligible Ukrainian families will provide them with the additional support they need to take care of their families during a very challenging time in their lives."

Eligible families will be able to receive the Child Basic Benefit or Transition Benefit for Children until they qualify for the federal Canada Child Benefit.

"There is currently a lengthy delay and additional requirements imposed on displaced Ukrainians arriving under CUAET by the federal government before they can access the federal Canada Child Benefit," Makowsky said. "This adds hardship for Ukrainian families. The Government of Saskatchewan is disappointed that the Canada Child Benefit is not being provided by the federal government until they reside in Canada for 18 months, as this is an essential program for all families living in Canada."

Information about Saskatchewan programs and services is available to Ukrainian newcomers on an ongoing basis by calling 1-833-613-0485 (toll free), by email at ukrainesupport@gov.sk.ca or by accessing online resources at www.saskatchewan.ca/residents/saskatchewan-supports-ukraine.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you to the good Christian people Abe, Donna and Kelly who cared and took time every Sunday to give us their sermon and a chance for us to sing hymns at the now closed facility in Broadview, SK. Some churches in SE Saskatchewan refuse to perform services in care homes. The seniors are quite possibly the ones who helped build their places of worship. I am very proud and thankful for Abe, Donna and Kelly's caring and love during my stay in Broadview. —Ken Johnston, Grenfell, SK 2:1p

McKays reclaim Universal Bush Disc Golf belts

BY CHRIS ISTACE
For the first time in its history, the World Bush Disc Golf Championships of the Universe (WBDGCU) has repeat title-holders after a tight shoot-out at Rocanville Trail Disc Golf Course on Oct. 1.

Two years after claiming the WBDGCU belts, the father-son doubles team of Ian and Gage McKay from Peepeekisis First Nation hoisted the leather and brass trophies again, posting the top score of minus-20 through two 18-hole rounds of golf.

The McKays sat in a three-way tie for first place at minus-eight after Round One with Ryan Tardif/Andrew Savage and Evan Drader/Dan Fortier. The ultimate champs had more to say in Round Two, however, blasting a minus-12 and taking the championship by two strokes over Drader and Fortier (-8, -10/-18).

Rocanville Trail representatives Josh and Chris Istace rounded out the podium in third place at minus-14 after defeating Tardif/Savage on a scorecard countback. A birdie on Hole 17 handed the Istace's the advantage.

The 2022 WBDGCU introduced the Rick Goraluk Memorial tablets for Second Flight competitors. The McKays were represented here as well, with younger sibling Chase McKay and teammate Deshawn Klassen of Swift Current winning the inaugural championship. The team shot minus-eight, one stroke better than the Rocanville/Regina combination of Bob Deptuck and Leland Foley. Melville-based Reed and Kyla Wishnevetski earned third spot with a minus-four.

The fifth annual tournament was held at the Rocanville Cross-Country Ski Club and trails, attracting a total of 28 players from throughout the province. Sponsored by CDI Injury Recover Centre of Moosomin, Chance the Gator Disc Golf Supplies of North Battleford, and Instagram's Jeri-Ann Brownbridge and Arlen Nickel of Regina (@ironwolf4579). The World Bush Disc Golf Championship of the Universe was established in 2017 and has become Saskatchewan's largest doubles event of the season.

Anyone wanting more information about disc golf, Rocanville Trail DGC, the Universal Bush Disc Golf Championship of the Universe; or to book a disc golf clinic, contact Chris at christace@icloud.com or on Instagram at @mangycoyote73.

"STARS air ambulance saved my life"

Halbachs have a personal reason to support Elvis show in Moosomin

BY SIERRA D'SOUZA BUTTS
LOCAL JOURNALISM INITIATIVE REPORTER
Seven years ago Cora Halbach almost lost her life in a car accident from hitting a moose. She said if STARS Air Ambulance did not rescue her at the moment of the accident, then she would not be alive today.

"A lot of people probably think after seven years why now that I'm telling my story, but we will never forget it," said Cora.

"STARS saved my life."
After the accident, Cora was taken to Regina General Hospital from Yorkton. She was put on life-support for five days and was kept in the hospital for six weeks until she was healthy enough to leave.

"When they took me down the stairs afterwards in the hospital, I was pulled by this woman, I didn't know her, but I can remember her saying that I was very lucky," Cora said.

"I told her, you know I'm not lucky, I'm fortunate, and I still believe that today."

Her husband, Cliff Halbach, said he is forever grateful for STARS's help.

"It took a road ambulance an hour and a half to get to the scene at the time of the accident," said Cliff.

"There was no way she would've made it by road ambulance, no way. The only thing that I think saved her from being in the cold for that long, was her body going down to almost hypothermia."

The accident happened in February, 2015. Cliff said they were driving on Highway 16 with their three grandchildren in the truck, and got in the accident about 20 minutes away from the city of Yorkton.

"She wouldn't have made it without STARS because STARS is equipped for life support, wheel ambulance is not," Cliff said.

"Without them putting her on life support and keeping her alive, she would not be here today. I'm glad they were around or otherwise I wouldn't have her, she wouldn't be here."

Since 1985, the Shock Trauma Air Rescue Society (STARS) has flown more than 50,000 missions across Western Canada.

During 2021-22 fiscal year, there were 1,075 STARS missions that were carried out across the province, from their bases in Regina and Saskatoon.

Cora said when she found out that Rory Allen, an Elvis Tribute Artist, was coming to perform a show in Moosomin and that all proceeds from the show would be donated to STARS, that she had to be there.

"We donate money to STARS, but as soon as I saw in the paper about the show, I said we have to go," she smiled. "I'm an Elvis fan, I'm a very big Elvis fan. As soon as I heard about the show I knew we were going. We need to support it because all the proceeds from that show goes to STARS."

The two have been fans of Elvis for decades. They grew up listening to his music and have been to many tribute performances over the years.

"We went to Alberta before Covid started and they had 17 different Elvis Tribute Artists out there," Cora said.

"I think (the show) does bring awareness for STARS because a lot of people are Elvis Presley fans."

Having the opportunity to see a great performance while supporting a great cause means a lot, Cora said.

"This way I get to meet some of the people from STARS too," Cora said.

"I'd like to just meet them, and I'd like to take my granddaughter too, she's 13 now. I want her to just talk to STARS, to ask them questions, even just to let her know what they're about, to know what saved us."

Support for STARS goes a long way

The Halbachs have been supporting STARS ever since the accident.

"After the accident happened, I told her we have to start supporting STARS," said Cliff.

"We've donated every year since we've bought our lottery tickets. STARS needs the (financial) support to keep them in the air, a lot of people wouldn't be alive without them.

"If they don't get support they're not going to last. Someone has to help them to keep them up there."

"There's lots of stories I've read of people, that were taken by STARS, who would not be alive today if it had not been for them."

Since the accident, Cora has worked hard to be in shape, to where she is at today.

"It took a while for her body to take over on its own after the tubes from life support were pulled," her husband said.

"She spent six weeks in the hospital. She had to learn to talk, she had to learn to feed herself, she had to learn how to walk after the accident."

Cora said the upcoming show will help bring awareness for what STARS Air Ambulance does.

"When I did get back to Esterhazy, after the accident, I was in a wheelchair and we went back to our favourite restaurant," Cora said.

"That was a Thursday night, and people couldn't believe the shape that I was in."

"I thank God everyday that I'm alive."

Cora and Cliff said the reason why they wanted to share their story was to help support STARS.

"They (STARS) have been through all areas and have listed all the different places they've gone to, it's remarkable," said Cora.

Rory Allen's solo-show in tribute to Elvis will be held at Moosomin Community Theatre at 2 p.m. on Sunday Oct. 23. All proceeds from the event will go to STARS air ambulance.

Advance tickets are being sold for $20 at Pharmasave and the World-Spectator in Moosomin, as well as Manetain Hair Lounge and Gift Shoppe in Rocanville.

Broadview RCMP Report

BY STAFF SERGEANT DALLYN HOLMSTROM

Holmstrom's Rant

The rant is over, time for action. The Broadview/Kipling RCMP are always going to try to police with information and education prior to enforcement. However, sometimes the only way to educate people is with tickets. Everyone can expect to see more of the RCMP enforcing poor driving behaviour in towns in the area concentrating around school zones. Parents please warn your kids that are driving because I'm telling you now that if they are driving irresponsible there will be fines and in extreme cases, they will have their vehicle impounded.

- Here are a few fines you can expect to see written:
- Fail to obey Stop Sign - $230 - 4 demerit points
 - Fail to wear Seatbelt - $175 - 4 demerit points
 - Perform stunt/activity likely to distract/startle (stunting) - $150 - 4 demerit points
 - Use/hold electronic communications equipment while driving
 - 1st offence - $580 - 4 demerit points
 - 2nd offence in 12 months - $1,400 - 4 demerit points - 7 day vehicle seizure.
 - 3rd offence in 12 months - $2,100 - 4 demerit points - 7 day vehicle seizure.
 - Exceed lawful speed limit - fines and demerit points vary on speed and location
- This is your warning so don't expect one if you get stopped!

45 traffic tickets

There were 45 traffic tickets in the Broadview Detachment area. Several tickets were issued again this week for distracted driving this week which carried a $580 fine. The law states you can not use or hold electronic communications equipment while driving and the fines are as follows:

- 1st offence - $580 - 4 demerit points
- 2nd offence in 12 months - $1,400 - 4 demerit points - 7 day vehicle seizure.
- 3rd offence in 12 months - $2,100 - 4 demerit points - 7 day vehicle seizure.

The highest speeder award went to a male driving a Ford F-150 127 km/hr in an 80 km/hr speed zone on Highway 1 near Whitewood.

Woman upset with her family

On September 26, RCMP responded to a call on Ochapowace First Nation involving an intoxicated female that was upset with her family. The female smashed a car window that was parked in front of the residence and then fled from the scene. RCMP attended and completed an investigation. Members were unable to locate the female at the time but she will be charged for her actions when she is located.

Man breaks down front door

On September 26, RCMP were called to a residence on Ochapowace First Nation where a male was banging on the front door of a residence and looking into the windows. While en route to the residence, RCMP were updated that the male had now broken the front door of the residence and that the homeowner had told the male he was scaring the children in the residence. The male then left the residence. RCMP have charged the male for breaking down the door of the residence and he will now need to explain his actions in court.

Wind blows open door, sets off alarm

On September 28, RCMP were dispatched to an alarm at the Viterra Grain Terminal near Grenfell. RCMP spoke with a property representative on scene who advised that the strong Saskatchewan winds were up to their old tricks and blew a door open setting off the alarm.

Payloader goes missing

On September 29, it was reported to RCMP that a yellow payloader had broken down near a gravel pit on Ochapowace First Nation and that it now had gone missing. The owner of the tractor thought the tractor might have been stolen but needed to check if the tractor had been towed or moved first as he had left the tractor on private land.

This semi caught fire after it was stolen with the driver still inside of it. Before being pushed out of the vehicle while the semi was being driven down the Trans-Canada Highway, the driver was able to pull the air brakes, causing the semi to catch fire. The semi was eventually stopped because it was on fire and also because RCMP deployed a spike belt.

Man laying in middle of road

On September 29, RCMP were called to Ochapowace First Nation where an intoxicated male was laying in the middle of the road. The male was arrested and lodged in the newly created "Kings" Hotel where he had a chance to sober up. The male was later released and returned to his home.

Man assaults spouse, sets house on fire

On September 29, RCMP responded to a 911 complaint on Kahkewistahaw First Nations from a female who advised her spouse had assaulted her. While RCMP were searching for the spouse, RCMP received a second call advising that the spouse had set his house on fire. RCMP attended and arrested the intoxicated spouse who was unsure if anyone was in the house or not. RCMP were so thankful to have located the female and her child staying safely at a separate location. The male was lodged at the King's Hotel where he has remained due to the severity of his charges to answer for his charges.

This car caught fire due to a mechanical issue while driving on a grid road near the Zagime Anishinabek First Nation.

Broadview assists in stopping stolen semi

On September 29, Broadview RCMP received a request for assistance from Virden and Moosomin RCMP. They were following a male and a female that had stolen a truck and trailer in Brandon and had since stolen a second Freightliner semi from the weigh scales near Moosomin and had kidnapped the owner of the semi.

The suspects slowed down and threw the owner of the vehicle out on the road while still driving and luckily, he was not significantly injured. The owner of the semi managed to pull the air brakes before he was pushed out of the vehicle which caused the back tires to lock up and eventually start on fire. The semi continued driving down the highway while on fire until Broadview RCMP were able to set up a spike belt near Burrows and force the semi into the ditch. Broadview RCMP then took both the male and female into custody where they have remained due to the seriousness of their charges.

Vehicle fire due to mechanical issue

On September 30, RCMP were dispatched to a vehicle fire on a grid road near Zagime Anishinabek First Nation. The vehicle started on fire while driving due to a mechanical problem. The vehicle was towed to Grenfell and luckily no one was injured.

Man smashes house, car windows

On September 30, RCMP were dispatched to a vandalism in progress at Cowessess First Nation. An intoxicated male was near the victim's residence when the male victim had shined a flashlight on him from inside his residence. This enraged the intoxicated male who picked up a baseball bat and smashed the window of the residence, as well as, a parked vehicle. The male responsible was arrested and charged for his actions.

Man beaten with hockey stick

On October 1, RCMP were dispatched to an assault on Kahkewistahaw First Nation. A 30-year-old intoxicated male was beating another male with a hockey stick. When members arrived, the suspect had left the scene. One male victim had his teeth knocked out by the hockey stick and was treated by EMS. RCMP is requesting anyone with information about this incident to contact the Broadview RCMP by calling 306-696-5200. Please help us identify the person responsible. Information can be submitted anonymously through CrimeStoppers by calling 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or submitting a tip online at www.saskcrimestoppers.com.

Mental health calls

Broadview RCMP responded to several mental health calls this week. The mental health calls varied from people with dementia, people suffering from drug and alcohol psychosis, to people suffering from depression. We want to encourage everyone to reach out for help and talk to someone if they can.

No matter how bad things may seem remember that they will always get better. Life can be very difficult to say the least. Please reach out and check in with friends, co-workers, and family to see how they are doing. It's a perfectly normal question to ask people how they are doing. Don't let people suffer in silence.

If you see someone that you believe needs some help but won't accept help from you, please let the police or their family know. Help is also available 24 hours a day at Canada's Suicide Prevention Service at 1-833-456-4566.
