The 802 Pipestone Air Cadets

Teaching youth how to become productive and positive leaders and citizens

The Moosomin 802 Royal Canadian Air Cadet Pipestone Squadron is a youth program that has operated in the Moosomin area since forming in 1971. The cadet program is open to all youth in the area between the ages of 12 years to 18 years of age, with no fees. New cadets are welcome at any time of the year and there is no set registration deadline.

The cadet program is a collaboration between the Air Cadet League of Canada and Department of National Defense, with the main goals of the program focusing on the promotion of positive citizenship, leadership and fostering an interest in the military.

Cadets meet Mondays throughout the school year at the Moosomin Convention Centre. During the weekly sessions, cadets will learn about the fundamentals of flight, survival skills, how to maintain care of their uniforms, marksmanship, and learn about the Canadian Armed Forces and the roles they play internationally, just to mention a brief few of the topics covered. During the training year the cadets will also get to experience survival camps, gliding, and participation in Remembrance Day ceremonies, drill, marksmanship and effective speaking competitions, as well as visiting various military institutions. With all the activities that the squadron performs throughout the year, the biggest draw to the program continues to be the ability for cadets to earn either their gliders pilot license or their power aircraft license at no cost to the cadet. Over the course of the last 12 years, 802 Pipestone Air Cadets have graduated seven pilots.

Cadets through hard work have the ability to earn their glider's license at 15 years of age and 16 years of age for their private pilot's license. If cadets choose not to pursue their pilots license, the cadet program has many more summer courses that can be taken such as survival instructor, advanced aviation, leadership and ceremonial instructor, physical fitness instructors, basic survival, and general training.

"This is a fantastic program that not only offers the cadets opportunities to connect with other youth from across Canada through free summer camps," says Commanding Officer Ethan Courteau. "This program also provides opportunity for youth to develop leadership skills, practice effective speaking skills, participate in survival skills, and so much more."

Get Involved with Saskatchewan Gateway Parish

Saskatchewan Gateway Parish is a group of Anglican congregations serving the communities between Moosomin and Rocanville. These churches may be small in number, but are rich in history, deeply committed to their faith, and actively engaged in building strong and connected communities.

Each congregation within the parish has stood for over a century. St. Alban's Church in Moosomin, built in 1885, remains an important part of the town's historical life. In 2023, it opened its doors to the Moosomin Visual Arts Centre, bringing vibrant creativity into the building.

South of Moosomin, St. Peter's Spring Creek is a small country church and one of the oldest Anglican churches in southern Saskatchewan. Built when the area was first settled, it still holds services each summer. This year, the church received a new sign, replacing a hand-painted one that stood for over 100 years. The community gathered for a special dedication service, celebrating the care and love that local families continue to give this beautiful site.

In Rocanville, St. Thomas Church has been active since 1911. Though the building is small and has no running water, it remains full of life. The church is home to a growing Sunday school and one of the last working church bells in the area. The children look forward to ringing it each Sunday morning.

Worship and Services

Sunday worship takes place at both St. Alban's in Moosomin and St. Thomas in Rocanville, with services starting at 11 a.m. St. Thomas offers a volunteer-led Sunday school and also provides access to Confirmation classes. Once a month, both churches host reserve sacrament services. This means communion, and is administered by the Deacon in Charge.

The parish has celebrated several baptisms and is always happy to welcome more. These moments bring joy and renewal to the life of the church.

New Local Leadership

This November will mark an exciting milestone. On November 1, 2025, the parish's Deacon in Charge, Jessie Leigh Johnston, will be ordained into the priesthood. After five years of study and local training, she has completed the WECAN/QSMM program and received her Licentiate in Theology through Emmanuel and St. Chad in Saskatoon, in partnership with the Diocese of Qu'Appelle.

Unlike the traditional path through seminary, this journey has been rooted in the local community. The support of Sask Gateway Parish has allowed her to remain on her family farm while preparing for ordination. Once ordained, she will be able to offer full priestly services, including weddings, communion, and other sacraments.

Jessie Leigh says this transition brings great hope for the future. "Being a locally raised priest means I understand the rural lifestyle, and I'm not going anywhere. This opens up opportunities for us to strengthen what we have and grow in ways that make sense for our community," she says.

Caring for the Community

The parish's work extends far beyond Sunday mornings. It provides home visits and pastoral care to anyone in need. Through the Moosomin & District Association of Churches, the parish helps offer devotional time and regular church services at the Southeast Integrated Care Home in Moosomin.

Weekly services are also held every Thursday at 2 p.m. at Cobblestone Apartments, creating a meaningful connection with residents there. Plans are underway to begin Bible study groups in both Moosomin and Rocanville. Confirmation classes can also be arranged for those interested.

Supporting Youth

In collaboration with the Moosomin & District Association of Churches, the Diocese of Qu'Appelle, and St. Thomas, the parish launched an after-school youth program in Rocanville. Called Friday Night Live, the program takes place at the St. Thomas Parish Hall and is open to all children from Kindergarten to Grade 6, regardless of religious background.

The program is completely free and provides a safe, welcoming place for children to learn, play, and build friendships. It runs entirely on volunteer support and donations. Anyone interested in getting involved can visit their Facebook page by searching FNL - Friday Night Live.

Fundraisers and Community Support

Sask Gateway Parish hosts two major fundraisers each year. The B.C. Peach Sale brings in support while also delivering delicious fruit to the community. This past summer marked the fundraiser's seventh year.

During the Christmas season, the parish brings back a cherished tradition, the Kelly Family Christmas. Originally started by Delta Kelly, this event is a celebration of hospitality, faith, and gratitude that continues to bring people together.

"What I've seen here is a deep commitment to faith and to each other," says the Deacon Jessie Leigh. "There is so much compassion, joy, and perseverance within our congregations. It's an honour to be part of it."

As the parish looks ahead, there is strong hope for renewal and growth. New ideas, fresh energy, and continued community support are paving the way for a future where tradition and innovation walk hand in hand.

Moosomin Shrine Club

Shriners Hospitals for Children, commonly known as Shriners Children's, is a network of non-profit children's hospitals and other pediatric medical facilities across North America. Children with orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate are eligible for care and receive all services in a family-centered environment, regardless of the patients' ability to pay. Care for children is usually provided until age 18, although in some cases, it may be extended to age 21.

Headquartered in Tampa, Florida, the hospitals are owned and operated by Shriners International, a Freemasonry-related organization. Patients are not required to have any familial affiliation with the Shriners order nor Freemasonry. The hospitals advertising campaign features the tagline, "Love to the Rescue."

TREATMENTS

Treatment areas cover a wide range of pediatric orthopaedics, including scoliosis, limb discrepancies, clubfoot, hip dysplasia, and juvenile idiopathic arthritis, as well as cerebral palsy, spina bifida (myelomeningocele), and other neurological conditions that affect ambulation and movement. Three of the hospitals provide spinal cord injury rehabilitation that is developmentally appropriate for children and adolescents, with adventure and adapted sports programs, activity-based rehabilitation, aquatherapy, animal-assisted therapy, and other programs. Four of the hospitals (Boston, Galveston, Cincinnati, and Sacramento) provide care for children with burns, as well as treating a variety of skin conditions such as epidermolysis bullosa and toxic epidermal necrolysis. The Boston, Chicago, Shreveport, Galveston, Springfield, and Portland hospitals also provide treatment for children with craniofacial conditions, especially facial clefts.

The hospital in Sacramento is the only hospital in the Shriners' system that focuses on all three areas of treatment (burns, orthopaedics, and spinal cord injuries), as well as research. The Sacramento hospital also houses its own orthotics and prosthetics lab and development facilities. Transportation to the hospitals is often provided free of charge for patients and their family by Shriner-drivers (also known as Hospital Tripsters) across the country, by van or by airplane. Children accepted for treatment become part of the Shriners Hospital system until their 18th or, sometimes, their 21st birthday, eligible for both inpatient and outpatient treatment for all facets of their disability.

RESEARCH AND EDUCATION

While the main emphasis of the hospitals is to provide medical care to children regardless of the family's ability to pay, the mission of the hospitals also includes research on the conditions treated and the education of medical professionals, including medical residents and fellows, nurses, physical, recreation, and occupational therapists, speech and language pathology, psychologists, social workers, and child life specialists.

"They have expanded technology and were able to build custom leg braces that fit me. They fit right to my leg and can lock my leg to extend so that I can hop behind a walker and use them to get into equipment. If it wasn't for Shrine Hospitals, it definitely would have been tougher to find the right pieces of equipment for me to do what I do."

Nutrien Rocanville Community Hall celebrating its 9th year!

Nutrien Rocanville Community Hall is celebrating its ninth year since it opened its doors in October of 2016.

The Hall has been used for many events such as weddings, funerals, religious services, cabarets, concerts, reunions, dance classes, meetings, training, and this year it played host to Jessica Campbell's sportsman dinner and fundraiser.

The large space, the ease of setting up, and the functionality of the kitchen and bar are only a few of the many features that people often compliment when renting the facility. The stage is spacious and hosts a first-class sound system, two large projector screens, and a beautifully lit actors' space in the wings.

The main hall is 87 feet by 79 feet for a total of 6,873 sq are feet. The stage area is 43 feet by 24 feet, for a total of 1,032 square feet.

The Hall Committee would like to thank the many businesses and individuals who have donated to the hall and thank everyone for their ongoing support.

The hall has been a great addition to the community, and we look forward to continuing to serve the community.

The East Central Newcomer Welcome Centre Inc. The agency has a service area of 150 km radius around Yorkton.

The ECNWC is a first stop collaborative centre to welcome newcomers to the East Central Saskatchewan region. SWIS connects newly arrived families to services and resources in the school and community to promote settlement and foster student achievement. The SWIS program focuses on newcomer families that are in their first few years in Canada. The program also focuses on newcomer students and parents, that have unresolved settlement needs.

Some of the services provided by the agency for newcomers to Canada include: community facilities and services tours, identifying newcomer's settlement needs, connection to cultural, social and recreational groups and events, referrals to community services, connecting with volunteers to support them in their settlement and integration, solution focused counselling, information and orientation seminars and interpretation. The agency also provides connections to housing, education, healthcare, banking, transportation, employment, places of worship and other activities which accelerate the settlement process.

The East Central Saskatchewan Immigration Partnership (ECSIP) is an initiative hosted by EC-

NWCI aimed at bringing together service providers, settlement agencies, community groups, municipal representatives, employers and other key organizations across the Mooseberry Acting Company invites you to join the fun!

If you've ever thought about trying theatre, even just once, Mooseberry Acting Company might be worth checking out. The Moosomin-based group puts on comedies and is always open to new people, whether you're interested in being on stage or helping behind the scenes.

"We have a solid group of regulars, but we love seeing new faces," says longtime member Sheilagh Garrett. "Rehearsals are usually twice a week to start, and they pick up as we get closer to showtime. It's a time commitment, but it's fun."

That commitment matters since theatre really depends on everyone showing up and working together. But for the folks involved, it's less about stress and more about connection and laughs.

"We're not running acting classes or anything formal," Sheilagh adds. "We just want people who are up for having fun. We only do comedies. The goal is to make people laugh and have a good time."

Sheilagh and co-director Phil Hamm pick the plays each season by reading scripts and looking at what other community groups are doing. Unlike some groups that focus on musicals or dramas, Mooseberry keeps things simple with no singing and lighthearted stories.

"If you've wanted to try acting but don't want to sing in front of people, this is perfect," Sheilagh says. "We just need people who want to be part of it."

After each production, the cast and crew gather for a post-show meal. It's a long-standing tradition and a chance to relax together.

For Jarrod Slugoski, joining Mooseberry Acting Company was a way to reconnect with something he enjoyed in high school.

"There was a long stretch where I wasn't involved in theatre at all," he says. "But after I moved back to Moosomin, I saw an opening and jumped in. It's creative, but it's not stressful. It's something I genuinely enjoy."

Jarrold describes the group as relaxed and friendly. "It feels more like a family," he says. "We joke around a lot, but everyone shows up and puts in the effort. We're all volunteers and everyone's in it for the right reasons."

The best part for him is the audience reaction.

"People come up after the show and say they laughed the whole time. That's such a great feeling. Knowing you helped brighten someone's day."

Getting started is easy. "No one's going to turn you away," Jarrod says. "Come sit in on a rehearsal, ask questions. That's how I started. Now I've been in three plays."

With two productions on the go this season, Mooseberry is busier than usual. Whether you want to act, work backstage, or just see what it's all about, it's a good time to stop by.

"If someone's interested, we'll find a spot for them," Sheilagh says.

Anyone interested in joining Mooseberry Acting Company can call Sheilagh at 306-435-6444.

Volunteers at the thrift store and food share.

Moosomin Thrift Store & Food Share Make the community a better place when you volunteer with us!

Come volunteer with us at the Moosomin Thrift Store and Food Share! We are open 12-5 pm Monday to Thursday for shopping as well as donation drop offs, and Fridays we are open 12-5 pm for donation drop off only. We accept cash, debit, Visa and Mastercard.

The Thrift Store and Food Share relies on the community and surrounding areas for donations. That is how we are able to keep the doors open and the shelves stocked! If you haven't been in our store lately, we highly encourage you to come in and have a look around.

We have been so fortunate to have been approved for various grants which let us move forward with many projects. Every little bit helps when receiving these grants and with them covering the costs of our projects, we were able to donate to a few things in our local community as well! We've donated to the Moosomin Airport Expansion, the daycares in Moosomin and Wapella, STARS and to McNaughton High School Breakfast Program to name a few.

We also acknowledge that we wouldn't be able to give away these donations to our community without the help of our amazing volunteers. They are the reason this store is the way it is and why we are able to operate so smoothly. They are the backbone and the front of this operation and we cannot tell them in words how much we appreciate all that they do. From taking donations and sorting them, from helping customers and ringing through purchases on the till, organizing displays to cleaning, there is a never ending to do list and somehow each one of them puts a dent in it every day!

We have such a good rapport with everyone and it is such a joy to come to the store and work alongside these ladies and gentlemen every day!

If you are looking for ways to give back to your community and want to get outside of your house, we would love to have you at our store. We are always looking for new volunteers and we want you to come down and see what all the excitement is about!

Keep an eye on our Facebook page and Instagram page to be in the know of our weekly sales and remember that every Wednesday is bag day. For only $20 you can fill a bag of clothes (mens, womens and kids).

If you are wanting to know more about our organization, please come down to see us at our location—609 Gordon Street, Moosomin; phone Samantha Campbell at 306-435-2633 or email me at sehas2018@sasktel.net.

You can also leave us a message on our Facebook page or Instagram page — Moosomin Thrift Store.

If you are wanting to mail us, our address is P.O. Box 1803, Moosomin, SK or you can e-transfer us at sehas2018@sasktel.net.

MFRC strives to meet the needs of all families

The Moosomin Family Resource Centre is located in the lower level of the Bethel United Church and has been in operation since 2002. Our commitment to support and promote child development and healthy family connections is the core of our programming.

MFRC strives to meet the needs of all families with a wide range of programs and clinics throughout the year. We have a wide variety of toys and experience centres that encourage parents/caregivers to explore and learn together through play but also gives children the opportunity to develop early friendships and grow socially.

Moosomin's new junior hockey team needs you

Junior hockey is officially back in Moosomin. The Moosomin Steelhawks are set to hit the ice this season as the newest team in the Prairie Junior Hockey League (PJHL), and they're calling on the community to help make it as successful as possible.

As a first-year team, the Steelhawks are building everything from the ground up.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Game nights don't run themselves. The team needs dependable, enthusiastic volunteers for: Ticket sales and front gate, 50/50 draws, in-game music and announcing, setup and cleanup crews, rink operations and support.

BECOME A BILLET FAMILY

Hosting a Steelhawks player is one of the most rewarding ways to support the team.

Billet families provide housing, meals, and a supportive environment for players during the season—helping them succeed both on and off the ice.

If you've got a spare room and a love for the game, consider opening your home to a future star.

SPONSORS & LOCAL BUSINESSES

The Steelhawks are looking for sponsors at all levels.

If you're a business owner or organization that wants to support local sports, this is your chance to put your name behind something that's going to be a big part of Moosomin's future.

SOCIAL MEDIA & PROMOTIONS

We're looking for someone to take the reins on social media. If you've got experience with Instagram, Facebook, TikTok or digital marketing, or just want to help tell the team's story. We want to hear from you.

Promotions, content creation, community engagement—this is a chance to help build a brand.

This isn't just about hockey. It's about bringing our community together, giving young athletes a place to grow, and showing pride in our town.

The Saskatchewan Wildlife Federation: Enhancing fish and wildlife habitat since 1929

The Saskatchewan Wildlife Federation is a non-profit, non-government, charitable organization of over 33,000 members in 122 branches across Saskatchewan representing every walk of life.

Per capita, we are the largest wildlife conservation organization of its kind in the world. Established in 1929, the SWF has become an acknowledged leader in the conservation field.

Our mission is "To ensure the wildlife legacy we leave to our children surpasses that which we inherited."

Our objectives are as follows:

- To acknowledge first and foremost that the wildlife of the province is a public resource belonging to all Saskatchewan residents, and to ensure the resource remains equally accessible to all residents of the province.
- To promote conservation, fishing, trapping, hunting, the shooting sports, and wildlife-oriented activities.
- To practice and promote wise management and use of our natural resources.
- To develop and maintain conservation policies.
- To develop and maintain conservation and educational programs.
- To acquire and enhance habitat for wildlife.
- To accept donations of real estate, monetary funds, and materials for the purpose of furthering the sustainability of our fish and wildlife resources.
- To keep provincial measuring records of big game heads, recognizing the Henry Kelsey record keeping association as an ancillary body of the SWF.

In 1929 the Saskatchewan Fish &

At the Rocanville Wildlife awards banquet held this past spring.

Game Protective Association was formed through the initiative of three individuals, Mr. Judge Bence and Mr. Tom Coburn from North Battleford and Mr. Stan Naden from Regina. They recognized the need for a united provincial voice for Saskatchewan's anglers and hunters to protect our unparalleled natural resources.

On February 1, 1932 at a meeting of the organization, the name was changed to the Saskatchewan Fish & Game League, and by 1934 boasted 14 branches with 839 members who paid a membership fee of 25 cents.

Due to the League's expanding scope and activities, the name was changed in 1966 to The Saskatchewan Wildlife Federation and finally was registered as a non-profit organization in 1982 as Saskatchewan Wildlife Federation.

In 1968, the Federation adopted the whooping crane, a species that was clawing its way back from the brink of extinction, as its official emblem.

Wildlife Tomorrow - To preserve habitat in its natural state for all species of wildlife.

Habitat Trust - Habitat Trust is a special fund established in 1978 for the purchase, retention, and enhancement of critical wildlife habitat across the province.

Youth - A "Wonders of Wildlife" Manual has been developed, with the co-operation of other programs and conservation groups.

Fisheries - S.W.F. branches conduct local fisheries projects (fish stocking, stream enhancement, trout ponds, etc.) throughout the province in conjunction with the provincial governments Fish & Wildlife Development Fund. With assistance from biologists, the branches are the main force behind securing much of Saskatchewan's fisheries habitat.

Habitat Enhancement - Over one million trees have been planted on cultivated parcels of wildlife land throughout the province to provide food and shelter for wildlife.

Henry Kelsey - An annual listing is kept of all qualifying big game heads, with a Records Book published every few years.

New Lions International Chapter: New Moosomin club looking for members!

The Moosomin Lions Club is officially up and running, and now they're reaching out to the community for help. As the newest chapter of Lions International, the club is looking for members, sponsors and volunteers to help carry out projects that make a real difference right here in our communities.

Lions Clubs are not tied to any political or religious groups. Their focus is simply on building stronger communities and filling in the gaps where help is needed most.

"We talked to some of the members of other service clubs, and they're okay with another club starting up," says club representative Rob Hill. "They know they can't provide all the service the community needs on their own."

With each service group having its own focus, there's room for another organization to lend a hand. One example Hill pointed to is Telemiracle, which is led by the Kinsmen but also supported by Lions Clubs across the province. These kinds of partnerships show how much more can be accomplished when groups work together.

The newly formed Moosomin Lions Club made their first donation recently. Above is Justin Grayson, left, with the Lions making a donation to Leo Ilustrisimo, right, with the fundraising committee for the basketball court. The club donated $1,030 to the Terry Lynd basketball court with the proceeds of a 50/50 draw.

The Lions also support national initiatives like the Lions Foundation of Canada Dog Guides, which provides trained guide dogs to Canadians with disabilities at no cost. Over 3,000 people have been matched with service dogs through the program, helping them live more independently.

Locally, the Moosomin Lions Club already has some exciting opportunities in mind, including programs for kids. But they need more hands to get these projects off the ground.

They are especially hoping to find someone involved with local emergency services, such as the fire department or ambulance, to sit on their board. This would make the club eligible for special grants that could benefit the entire community.

Right now, the biggest need is simple: more members. Whether you're interested in fundraising, helping with kids' programs, or just looking for a way to get involved, the Moosomin Lions would love to hear from you!

For more information or to express interest in joining, contact Rob Hill at rfhill@sasktel.net.
