Administrative PROFESSIONALS

ADMINISTRATIVE PROFESSIONALS WEEK: INVALUABLE PROFESSIONALS WORKING HARD BEHIND THE SCENES

Administrative Professionals Week (APW) is celebrated annually on the last full week in April, which this year is April 22. The event aims to recognize and highlight the vital work of administrative professionals, including receptionists, secretaries, personal assistants, customer support workers and more.

The administrative professional job has evolved over the years. The technology boom in the last decade has forced administrative workers to expand their skills. On top of managing memos, spreadsheets and budgets, admin workers must also now be proficient in countless online programs and software.

These days, many businesses have entire teams of multitasking administrative professionals that keep their offices running smoothly.

Recognizing the hard work & dedication of administrative professionals around the province. Thank you for everything you do!
